INTRODUCTION

Grammar in Use is a textbook for intermediate students of English who need to study and practice using the grammar of the language. It can be used as a classroom text or for self-study. It will be especially useful in cases where, in the teacher's view, existing course materials do not provide adequate coverage of grammar.

Level

The book is intended mainly for intermediate students (that is, students who have already studied the basic structures of English). It concentrates on those structures which intermediate students want to use but which often cause difficulty. The book will probably be most useful at middle- and upper-intermediate levels (where all or nearly all of the material will be relevant), and can serve both as a basis for review and as a means of practicing new material. The book will also be useful for more advanced students who still make a lot of grammatical mistakes and who need a book for reference and practice.

The book is not intended to be used by beginning-level students.

How the book is organized

The book consists of 124 units, each of which concentrates on a particular point of grammar. Some areas (for example, the present perfect or the use of articles) are covered in more than one unit. In each unit there are explanations and examples (left-hand page) and exercises (right-hand page), except for Unit 112, which is a double unit.

At the beginning of the book the Contents pages provide a full list of units, and there is a detailed Index at the end for easy reference.

There are also four Appendixes at the end of the book: "List of Present and Past Tenses," "Regular and Irregular Verbs," "Spelling," and "Short Forms." It might be useful for the teacher to draw students' attention to these.

Using the book

It is certainly not intended that anyone should work through this book from beginning to end. It is for the teacher to decide what to teach and in what order to teach it, so the book is best used selectively and flexibly.

The book can be used with the whole class or with individual students. When using the book with the whole class, it is suggested that teachers teach the grammar points concerned in whatever way they want. In this case the left-hand page is not used actively during the lesson but serves as a record of what has been taught and can be referred to by the student in the future. The exercises can then be done in class or as homework. Alternatively (and additionally), individual students can be directed to study certain units of the book by themselves if they have particular difficulties not shared by other students in their class.

Answer Key

A separate answer key is available for teachers and self-study users.

Grammar in Use

Present continuous (I am doing)

a Study this example situation:

Ann is in her car. She is on her way to work.

She is driving to work.

This means: She is driving now, at the time of speaking.

This is the present continuous tense:

I	am	(= I'm)	} driving
he/she/(it)	is	(= he's, etc.)
we/they/you	are	(= we're, etc.)

We use the present continuous when we talk about something that is happening at the time of speaking:

- Please don't make so much noise. I'm studying. (not I study)
- "Where is Peggy?" "She's taking a bath." (not she takes)
- Let's go out now. It isn't raining anymore.
- (at a party) Hello, Ann. Are you enjoying the party? (not do you enjoy)

b We also use the present continuous when we talk about something that is happening around the time of speaking, but not necessarily exactly at the time of speaking. Study this example situation:

- Tom and Ann are talking and having coffee in a cafe. Tom says: "I'm reading an interesting book at the moment. I'll lend it to you when I've finished it."

Tom is not reading the book at the time of speaking. He means that he has begun the book and hasn't finished it yet. He is in the middle of reading it. Here are some more examples:

- Maria is studying English at a language school. (not studies)
- Have you heard about Brian? He is building his own house. (not builds)

But perhaps Maria and Brian are not doing these things exactly at the time of speaking.

c We often use the present continuous when we talk about a period around the present. For example: today, this week, this season, etc.:

- "You're working hard today." "Yes, I have a lot to do."
- Tom isn't playing football this season. He wants to concentrate on his studies.

d We use the present continuous when we talk about changing situations:

- The population of the world is rising very fast. (not rises)
- Is your English getting better? (not does . . . get)

UNIT 2

Simple present (I do)

a Study this example situation:

Alex is a bus driver. But now he is asleep in bed.

So:

He is not driving a bus (he is asleep).

But: He drives a bus.

This is the simple present tense:

I/we/you/they drive

he/she/(it) drives

We use the simple present to talk about things in general. We are not thinking only about the present. We use it to say that something happens all the time or repeatedly, or that something is true in general. It is not important whether the action is happening at the time of speaking:

- The earth goes around the sun.
- Nurses take care of patients in hospitals.
- In Canada, most stores close at 6:00 p.m.

Remember that we say he/she/it -s. Don't forget the s:

- I work in a bank. Barry works in a department store.

b We use do/does to make questions and negative sentences:

do I/we/you/they does he/she/it	}	work?	I/we/you/they don't he/she/it doesn't	}	work
--	---	---------------------	--	---	--------------------

- Excuse me, do you speak English?
- "Would you like a cigarette?" "No, thanks. I don't smoke."
- What does this word mean? (not What means this word?)
- Rice doesn't grow in Alaska.

For questions see also Unit 47.

c We use the simple present when we say how often we do things:

- I get up at 8:00 every morning. (not am getting)
- How often do you go to the dentist?
- Ann doesn't go out very often.
- In the summer, Tom usually plays tennis twice a week.

d Note that we say "Where do you come from?" (= Where are you from?):

- Where do you come from? (not Where are you coming from?)
- He comes from Japan. (not He is coming from Japan.)

Present continuous (I am doing) or simple present (I do)?

Before you study this unit, study Units 1 and 2.

a Study this explanation and compare the examples:

Present continuous (I am doing)			Simple present (I do)
Use the present continuous to talk about something that is happening at or close to the time of speaking:			Use the simple present to talk about things in general or things that happen repeatedly:
I am doing			← I do →
past	now	future	past	now	future
The water is boiling . Could you turn it off, please?			Water boils at 100 degrees Celsius.
Listen to those people. What language are they speaking ?			Excuse me, do you speak English?
"Where's Tom?" "He's playing tennis." (you find a stranger in your room) What are you doing here?			Tom plays tennis every Saturday. What do you usually do on the weekend? What do you do ? (= What's your job?)
Maria is in Canada for three months. She's learning English.			Most people learn to swim when they are children.
Use the present continuous for a temporary situation: I'm living with some friends until I can find an apartment. Mary usually has a summer job, but she isn't working this summer.			Use the simple present for a permanent situation: My parents live in Boston. They have been there for 20 years. Jack doesn't work during the summer. He always takes a long vacation.

b Some verbs are used only in simple tenses. For example, you cannot say "I am knowing." You can only say I know. Here is a list of verbs that are not normally used in continuous tenses (but there are exceptions):

want	like	belong	know	suppose	remember need	love	see	realize	mean	forget prefer	hate	hear	believe	understand	seem have (meaning "possess"; see also Unit 23) think (meaning "believe" / "have an opinion")

- Do you like Rome? (not are you liking)
- He doesn't understand the problem. (not he isn't understanding)
- These shoes belong to me. (not are belonging)
- What do you think Tom will do? (= What do you believe he will do?)
- Do you have a car? (not are you having) but: ■ What are you thinking about? (= What is going on in your mind?)

UNIT 4

Present tenses (I am doing / I do) with a future meaning

- a Present continuous with a future meaning
Study this example situation:

This is Tom's schedule for next week.

He is playing tennis on Monday afternoon.
He is going to the dentist on Tuesday morning.
He is having dinner with Ann on Friday.

In all these examples, Tom has already decided and arranged to do these things.

When you are talking about what you have already arranged to do, use the present continuous (I am doing). Do not use the simple present (I do).

- A: What are you doing tomorrow evening? (not what do you do)
B: I'm going to the theater. (not I go)
- A: Are you playing tennis tomorrow?
B: Yes, but Tom isn't playing. He hurt his leg.
- A: Ann is coming tomorrow.
B: Oh, is she? What time is she arriving?
A: At 10:15.
B: Are you meeting her at the station?
A: I can't. I'm working tomorrow morning.

It is also possible to use going to (do) in these sentences:

- What are you going to do tomorrow evening?
- Tom is going to play tennis on Monday afternoon.

But the present continuous is usually more natural when you are talking about arrangements. See also Unit 5.

Do not use will to talk about what you have already arranged to do:

- What are you doing this evening? (not what will you do)
- Alex is getting married next month. (not Alex will get)

For will see Units 6 and 7.

- b Simple present with a future meaning

We use the simple present when we are talking about timetables, schedules, etc. (for example, public transportation, movies):

- What time does the movie begin?
- The train leaves Boston at 7:25 a.m. and arrives in Washington, D.C., at 3:41 p.m.
- The football game starts at 2:00.
- Tomorrow is Wednesday.

But we do not usually use the simple present for personal arrangements:

- What time are you meeting Ann? (not do you meet)

UNIT 5

Going to (I am going to do) a We use going to (do) when we say what we have already decided to do, or what we intend to do in the future:

- A: There's a movie on television tonight. Are you going to watch it?
B: No, I'm too tired. I'm going to make it an early night.
- A: I hear Ann has won a lot of money. What is she going to do with it?
B: I've heard she's going to travel around the world.

For the difference between will and going to see Unit 8.

b We prefer to use the present continuous (I am doing) when we say what someone has arranged to do – for example, arranged to meet someone, arranged to travel somewhere. Going to is also possible:

- What time are you meeting Ann? (or are you going to meet)
- I'm leaving for Europe on Monday. (or I'm going to leave)

See also Unit 4a.

c We use was/were going to to say what someone intended to do in the past (but didn't do):

- We were going to take the train, but then we decided to go by car.
- A: Did Tom take the exam?
B: No, he was going to take it, but then he changed his mind.

d Going to also has another meaning. Study this example situation:

The man can't see where he is going. There is a hole in front of him.

He is going to fall into the hole.

Here the speaker is saying what he thinks will happen. Of course he doesn't mean that the man intends to fall into the hole.

We use going to in this way when we say what we think will happen. Usually there is something in the present situation (the man walking toward the hole) that makes the speaker sure about what will happen.

- Look at those black clouds! It's going to rain. (the clouds are there now)
- Oh, I feel terrible. I think I'm going to be sick. (I feel terrible now) a We use will ('ll) when we decide to do something at the time of speaking:

- Oh, I left the door open. I'll go and shut it.
- "What would you like to drink?" "I'll have some coffee, please."
- "Did you call Ann?" "Oh no, I forgot. I'll do it now."
- I'm too tired to walk home. I think I'll take a taxi.

You cannot use the simple present (I do) in these sentences.

- I'll go and shut it. (not I go and shut it)

Do not use will to say what someone has already decided to do or arranged to do:

- I can't meet you tomorrow because my parents are coming to see me. (not my parents will come)

The negative of will is won't (or will not):

- Receptionist: I'm afraid Mr. Wood can't see you until 4:00.
You: Oh, in that case I won't wait.

We often use I think I'll . . . or I don't think I'll . . . when we decide to do something:

- I think I'll stay home this evening.
- I don't think I'll go out tonight. I'm too tired.

b We often use will in these situations:

Offering to do something:

- That bag looks heavy. I'll help you with it. (not I help)
- "I need some money." "Don't worry. I'll lend you some."

Agreeing or refusing to do something:

- A: You know that book I lent you? Can I have it back?
- B: Of course. I'll bring it back this afternoon. (not I bring)
- I've asked John to help me, but he won't.
- The car won't start. (=the car "refuses" to start)

Promising to do something:

- Thank you for lending me the money. I'll pay you back on Friday. (not I pay)
- I won't tell Tom what you said. I promise.
- I promise I'll call you as soon as I arrive.

Asking someone to do something (Will you . . . ?):

- Will you shut the door, please?
- Will you please be quiet? I'm trying to concentrate.

For will see also Unit 7. For will and going to see Unit 8.

a When we talk about the future, we often say what someone has arranged to do or intends to do. Do not use will in this situation:

- Tom is playing tennis on Monday. (not Tom will play)
- Are you going to watch television this evening? (not will you watch)

For arrangements and intentions see Units 4 and 5.

But often when we are talking about the future, we are not talking about arrangements or intentions. Study this example:

Tom: I'm really worried about my exam next week.

Ann: Don't worry, Tom. You'll pass.

"You'll pass" is not an arrangement or an intention. Ann is just saying what will happen or what she thinks will happen; she is predicting the future. When we predict a future happening or a future situation, we use will/won't.

- When you return home, you'll notice a lot of changes.
- This time next year I'll be in Japan. Where will you be?
- When will you find out your exam results?
- Tom won't pass his exam. He hasn't done any work for it.

We often use will with these words and expressions:

probably	I'll probably be a little late this evening.
(I'm) sure	You must meet Ann. I'm sure you'll like her.
(I) bet	I bet Carol will get the job.
(I) think	Do you think we'll win the match?
(I) suppose	I suppose we'll see John at the party.
(I) guess	I guess I'll see you next week.

b Will and shall

You can say I will or I shall (I'll) we will or we shall (we'll)

- I will (or I shall) probably go to Europe this summer.
- We will (or we shall) probably go to Europe this summer.

Will is more common than shall. In speech we normally use the short forms I'll and we'll:

- I'll probably go to Europe.

Do not use shall with he / she / it / they / you.

- John will help you. (not shall help you)

We use shall (not will) in the questions Shall I . . . ? and Shall we . . . ? (for offers, suggestions, etc.):

- Shall I open the window? (= Do you want me to open the window?)
- Where shall we go this evening?

For will see also Units 6, 8, and 9.

UNIT 8

Will or going to?

a

Talking about future actions

We use both will and going to to talk about our future actions, but there is a clear difference. Study this example situation:

Helen's bicycle has a flat tire. She tells her father.

Helen: My bicycle has a flat tire.
Can you fix it for me?

Father: Okay, but I can't do it now.
I'll fix it tomorrow.

will: We use will when we decide to do something at the time of speaking. The speaker has not decided before. Before Helen told her father, he didn't know about the flat tire.

Later, Helen's mother speaks to her husband.

Mother: Can you fix Helen's bicycle?
It has a flat tire.

Father: Yes, I know. She told me.
I'm going to fix it tomorrow.

going to: We use going to when we have already decided to do something. Helen's father had already decided to fix the bicycle before his wife spoke to him.

Here is another example:

- Tom is cooking when he suddenly discovers that there isn't any salt:

Tom: Ann, we don't have any salt.

Ann: Oh, we don't? I'll get some from the store. (she decides at the time of speaking)

Before going out, Ann says to Jim:

Ann: I'm going to get some salt from the store. (she has already decided)
Can I get you anything, Jim?

b

Saying what will happen (predicting future happenings)

We use both will and going to to say what we think will happen in the future:

- Do you think Laura will get the job?
- Oh no! It's already 4:00. We're going to be late.

We use going to (not will) when there is something in the present situation that shows what will happen in the future (especially the near future). The speaker feels sure about what will happen because of the situation now (see also Unit 5d):

- Look at those black clouds. It's going to rain. (the clouds are there now)
- I feel terrible. I think I'm going to be sick. (I feel terrible now)

Do not use will in situations like these.

In other situations, use will (see also Unit 7):

- Sue will probably arrive at about 8 o'clock.
- I think George will like the present you bought for him.

UNIT 10

Will be doing and will have done

a First study this example situation:

Tom is a football fan, and there is a football game on television this evening. The game begins at 7:30 and ends at 9:15. Ann wants to go and see Tom this evening and wants to know what time to come over:

Ann: Is it all right if I come over at about 8:30?

Tom: No, don't come then. I'll be watching the game on TV.

Ann: Oh. Well, what about 9:30?

Tom: Yes, that'll be fine. The game will have ended by then.

b We use will be doing (future continuous) to say that we will be in the middle of doing something at a certain time in the future. The football game begins at 7:30 and ends at 9:15. So during this time, for example at 8:30, Tom will be watching the match. Here are some more examples:

- You'll recognize her when you see her. She'll be wearing a yellow hat.
- This time next week I'll be on vacation. I'll probably be lying on a beautiful beach.

Compare will be doing with the other continuous forms:

Bill works every morning from 9 o'clock until noon. So:

- At 10 o'clock yesterday he was working. (past continuous – see Unit 12)
- It's 10 o'clock now. He is working. (present continuous – see Unit 1)
- At 10 o'clock tomorrow he will be working.

c You can also use will be doing in another way: to talk about things that are already planned or decided:

- I'll be going downtown later. Can I get you anything?

With this meaning will be doing is similar to am doing (see Unit 4a):

- I'm going downtown later.

We often use Will (you) be -ing? to ask about people's plans, especially when we want something or want someone to do something:

- "Will you be using your bicycle this evening?" "No, you can take it."
- "Will you be passing the post office when you go out?" "Yes, why?"

d We use will have done (future perfect) to say that something will already have happened before a certain time in the future. Tom's football game ends at 9:15. So after this time, for example at 9:30, the game will have ended. Here are some more examples:

- Next year is Ted and Amy's 25th wedding anniversary. They will have been married for 25 years. (Now they have been married for 24 years.)
- We're late. I guess the movie will already have started by the time we get to the theater.

Simple past (I did)

a Study this example:

Tom: Look! It's raining again.

Ann: Oh no, not again. It rained all day yesterday too.

Rained is the simple past tense. We use the simple past to talk about actions or situations in the past.

- I enjoyed the party very much.
- Mr. Brown died ten years ago.
- When I lived in Athens, I worked in a bank.

b Very often the simple past ends in -ed:

- We invited them to our party, but they decided not to come.
- The police stopped me on my way home last night.
- She passed her exam because she studied very hard.

For spelling rules see Appendix 3.

But many important verbs are irregular. This means that the simple past does not end in -ed:

leave → left We all left the party at 11:00.

go → went Last month I went to Rome to see a friend of mine.

cost → cost This house cost $75,000 in 1980.

The past of the verb be (am/is/are) is was/were:

I/he/she/it was we/you/they were
I was angry because Tom and Ann were late.

For a list of irregular verbs see Appendix 2.

c In simple past questions and negatives we use did/didn't + the base form (do/open, etc.):

it rained did it rain? it didn't rain

- Ann: Did you go out last night, Tom?
Tom: Yes, I went to the movies. But I didn't enjoy it.
- When did Mrs. Johnson die? ■ What did you do over the weekend?
- We didn't invite her to the party, so she didn't come.
- Why didn't you call me on Tuesday?

Note that we normally use did/didn't with have:

- Did you have time to write the letter?
- I didn't have enough money to buy anything to eat.

But we do not use did with the verb be (was/were):

- Why were you so angry? ■ Was Mark at work yesterday?
- They weren't able to come because they were very busy.

For the simple past see also Units 12, 19, and 20.

UNIT 12

Past continuous (I was doing)

a Study this example situation:

Yesterday Dave and Jim played tennis. They began at 10:00 and finished at 11:00.

What were they doing at 10:30?

They were playing tennis (at 10:30).

“They were playing” means that they were in the middle of playing tennis. They had started playing, but they hadn’t finished.

This is the past continuous tense:

I/he/she was	} playing
we/they/you were

We use the past continuous to say that someone was in the middle of doing something at a certain time. The action or situation had already started before this time but hadn’t finished:

- This time last year I was living in Brazil.
- What were you doing at 10:00 last night?

b The past continuous does not tell us whether an action was finished or not. Perhaps it was finished, perhaps not. Compare:

- Dan was cooking dinner. (past continuous) = He was in the middle of cooking dinner and we don’t know whether he finished cooking it.
- Dan cooked dinner. (simple past) = He began and finished it.

c We often use the past continuous (I was doing) and the simple past (I did) together to say that something happened in the middle of something else:

- Dan burned his hand while he was cooking dinner.
- I saw Jim in the park. He was sitting on the grass and reading a book.
- It was raining when I got up.
- While I was working in the garden, I hurt my back.

But to say that one thing happened after another, use the simple past.

- Last night Sue was taking a bath when the phone rang. She got out of the bathtub and answered the phone.

Compare:

- When Helen arrived, we were having dinner. (past continuous) = We had already started dinner before Helen arrived.
- When Helen arrived, we had dinner. (simple past) = Helen arrived and then we had dinner.

Note: There are some verbs (for example, know) that are not normally used in continuous tenses. For a list of these verbs see Unit 3b.

Present perfect (I have done) (1)

a Study this example situation:

Tom is looking for his key. He can't find it.

He has lost his key.

"He has lost his key" means that he lost it a short time ago and he still doesn't have it.

This is the present perfect (simple) tense:

I/we/they/you have (= I've, etc.)	} lost
he/she has (= he's, etc.)

I (etc.) haven't	} lost	have you (etc.)	} lost?
he/she hasn't		has he/she

We form the present perfect with have/has + the past participle. The past participle often ends in -ed (opened, decided), but many important verbs are irregular (lost, written, done, etc.). See Appendix 2.

b When we use the present perfect, there is a connection with the present:

- I've lost my key. (= I don't have it now.)
- Jim has gone to Canada. (= He is in Canada or on his way there now.)

c We often use the present perfect to give new information or to announce a recent happening:

- I've lost my key. Can you help me look for it?
- Did you hear about Jim? He's gone to Canada.

You can use the present perfect with just (= a short time ago):

- "Would you like something to eat?" "No, thanks. I've just had lunch."
- Hello, have you just arrived?

Use the present perfect with already to say something has happened sooner than expected:

- "Don't forget to mail the letter." "I've already mailed it."
- "When is Tom going to start his new job?" "He has already started."

Note that you can also use the simple past (I did / I lost, etc.) in the above situations.

- I lost my key. Can you help me look for it?
- "Would you like something to eat?" "No thanks. I just had lunch."
- "Don't forget to mail the letter." "I already mailed it."

d Study the difference between gone to and been to:

- Beth is on vacation. She has gone to Italy. (= She is there now or she is on her way there.)
- Tom is back from his vacation. He has been to Italy. (= He was there, but now he has come back.)

(See also Unit 114.)

For the present perfect see also Units 14–19.

For the present perfect and simple past see Units 19–20.

UNIT 14

Present perfect (I have done) (2)

a Study this example conversation:

Dave: Have you traveled a lot, Jane?
 Jane: Yes, I've been to 47 different countries.
 Dave: Really? Have you ever been to China?
 Jane: Yes, I've visited China twice.
 Dave: What about India?
 Jane: No, I've never been to India.

When we talk about a period of time that continues up to the present, we use the present perfect. Jane and Dave are talking about the places Jane has visited in her life (which is a period continuing up to the present).

Here are some more examples:

- “Have you read Hamlet?” “No, I haven't read any of Shakespeare's plays.”
- How many times have you been to the United States?
- Susan really loves that movie. She's seen it eight times.
- Carlos has lived in Argentina all his life. (or Carlos has always lived in Argentina.)

We often use ever and never with the present perfect:

- Have you ever eaten caviar?
- We have never had a car.

We often use the present perfect after a superlative (see Unit 100d):

- What a boring movie! It's the most boring movie I've ever seen.

b You have to use the present perfect with This is the first time . . . , It's the first time . . . , etc. Study this example situation:

- Ron is driving a car. He is very nervous and unsure because it's his first time behind the wheel of a car. You can say:
This is the first time he has driven a car. (not drives) or: He has never driven a car before.

Here are some more examples:

- Kathy has lost her passport again. It's the second time she has lost it.
- Is this the first time you've been in the hospital?

c Use the present perfect to say that you have never done something or that you haven't done something during a period of time that continues up to the present:

- I have never smoked.
- I haven't smoked for three years. (not I don't smoke for . . .)
- I haven't smoked since September. (not I don't smoke since . . .)
- Jill hasn't written to me for nearly a month.
- Jill has never driven a car.

For the difference between for and since see Unit 19b.

UNIT 15

Present perfect (I have done) (3)

a Study this example:

Tom: Have you heard from George?
Ann: No, he hasn't written to me lately.

We use the present perfect when we talk about a period of time that continues up to the present. Tom and Ann are talking about the period between a short time ago and now. So they say “have you heard” and “he hasn't written.”

Here are some more examples:

- Have you seen my umbrella? I can't find it anywhere.
- Everything is going fine. We haven't had any problems so far.
- We've met a lot of interesting people in the last few days.
- Fred has been sick a lot in the past few years, hasn't he?
- I haven't seen Maria recently. Have you?

For sentences with for and since see Unit 18.

b We often use the present perfect with yet (see also Unit 103). Yet shows that the speaker is expecting something to happen. Use yet only in questions and negative sentences:

- Has it stopped raining yet?
- I haven't told them about the accident yet.

You can also use yet with the simple past:

- Did it stop raining yet?
- I didn't tell them yet.

(See also Unit 20.)

c We use the present perfect with this morning / this evening / today / this week / this semester, etc. (when these periods are not finished at the time of speaking):

- I've had five cups of coffee today. (Perhaps I'll have more before the day is over.)
- Has Ann had a vacation this year?
- I haven't seen Tom this morning. Have you?
- Liz hasn't studied very much this semester.
- Bill is calling his girlfriend again. That's the third time he's called her this evening.

d We also use the present perfect continuous (I have been doing) when we talk about a period of time continuing up to the present:

- I haven't been feeling very well lately.

For the present perfect continuous see Units 16–18.

For the present perfect and simple past see Units 19–20.

UNIT 16

Present perfect continuous (I have been doing)

a Study this example situation:

Is it raining?
No, it isn't, but the ground is wet.

It has been raining.

This is the present perfect continuous tense:

I/we/they/you have (= I've, etc.)	} been doing
he/she/it has (= he's, etc.)

We use the present perfect continuous when we talk about an action that began in the past and has recently stopped or just stopped. Here are some examples:

- You're out of breath. Have you been running?
- Why are your clothes so dirty? What have you been doing?
- I've been talking to Tom about your problem, and he thinks . . .

b We also use the present perfect continuous to ask or say how long something has been happening. This time the action or situation began in the past and is still happening or has just stopped. Study this example:

It is raining now. It began to rain two hours ago, and it is still raining.

It has been raining for two hours.

We often use the present perfect continuous in this way, especially with how long, for, and since.

Here are some more examples:

- How long have you been studying English?
- They've been waiting here for over an hour.
- I've been watching television since 2:00.
- George hasn't been feeling very well lately.
- Have you been working hard today?

You can also use the present perfect continuous (with how long, for, and since) for actions repeated over a period of time:

- She has been playing tennis since she was eight.
- How long have you been smoking?

For more information about the present perfect + since/for, see Units 18–19. For the difference between the present perfect simple and present perfect continuous, see Units 17–18.

UNIT 17

Present perfect continuous (I have been doing) or present perfect simple (I have done)?

a Study these example situations:

Ann's clothes are covered in paint. She has been painting the ceiling.

Has been painting is the present perfect continuous tense.

We are interested in the action. It does not matter whether something has been finished or not. In the example, the action has not been finished.

Here are some pairs of examples:

Tom's hands are very dirty. He has been fixing the car.

You've been smoking too much lately. You should smoke less.

The ceiling was white. Now it's blue. She has painted the ceiling.

Has painted is the present perfect simple tense.

This time, the important thing is that something has been finished. We are interested in the result of the action, not in the action itself.

b We use the continuous form to say how long something has been happening:

Ann has been writing letters all day.

How long have you been reading that book?

Jim has been playing tennis since 2:00.

We use the simple form to say how much we have done, how many things we have done, or how many times we have done something:

Ann has written ten letters today.

How many pages of that book have you read?

Jim has played tennis three times this week.

See Unit 18 for more information about the present perfect and how long?

c Some verbs are not used in the continuous form, for example know. You have to say have known (not have been knowing). For a list of these verbs see Unit 3b.

UNIT 18

Present perfect (I have done / I have been doing) with how long, for, since

a Study this example situation:

Bob and Alice are married. They got married exactly 20 years ago, so today is their 20th wedding anniversary.

They have been married for 20 years.

We use the present perfect to say how long something has existed or how long something has been happening.

They are married. { How long have they been married?
They have been married for 20 years.

b We use the present perfect continuous (I have been doing) to say how long something has been happening. Note that the action is still happening now.

- I've been studying English for a long time.
- Sorry I'm late. Have you been waiting long?
- It's been raining since I got up this morning.

Sometimes the action is a repeated action (see also Unit 16b):

- Liz has been driving for ten years.
- How long have you been smoking?

The continuous (I have been doing) or the simple (I have done) can be used for actions repeated over a long period:

- I've been collecting / I've collected stamps since I was a child.

c We use the simple (I have done) for situations that exist for a long time (especially if we say always). Note that the situation still exists now.

- My father has always worked hard. (not has always been working)

We use the continuous for situations over a shorter time. Compare:

- John has been living in Caracas since January.
- John has always lived in Caracas.

d Some verbs (for example be, have, know) are not normally used in the continuous (see Unit 3b for a list and Unit 23 for have):

- How long have Bob and Alice been married?
- Sue has had a cold for the past week. (not has been having)
- Bill and I have known each other since high school.

e Do not use the simple present (I do) or present continuous (I am doing) to say how long something has been happening:

- I've been waiting here for an hour. (not I am waiting)
- How long have you known Jane? (not do you know)

UNIT 19

Present perfect with how long; simple past with when; since and for a Use the simple past (I did) to ask or say when something happened:

- A: When did it start raining?
- B: It started raining at one o'clock / an hour ago.
- A: When did Joe and Carol first meet?
- B: They first met when they were in college / a long time ago.

Use the present perfect (I have done / I have been doing) to ask or say how long something has been happening (up to the present):

- A: How long has it been raining?
- B: It's been raining since one o'clock / for an hour.
- A: How long have Joe and Carol known each other?
- B: They've known each other since they were in college / for a long time.

b Since and for

We use both since and for to say how long something has been happening:

- I've been waiting for you since 8 o'clock.
- I've been waiting for you for two hours.

We use since when we say the beginning of the period (8 o'clock).

We use for when we say the period of time (two hours).

	since		for
8 o'clock	1977	two hours	a week
Monday	Christmas	ten minutes	five years
May 12	lunchtime	three days	a long time
April	we arrived	six months	ages

- She's been working here since April. (= from April until now)
She's been working here for six months. (not since six months)
- I haven't seen Tom since Monday. (= from Monday until now)
I haven't seen Tom for three days. (not since three days)

We do not use for in expressions with all (all day / all morning / all week / all my life, etc.):

- I've lived here all my life. (not for all my life)

c Note the structure How long has it been since . . . ?:

- A: How long has it been since you had a vacation?
- B: It's been (= it has been) two years since I had a vacation. (= I haven't had a vacation for two years.)
- It's been ages since Aunt Helen visited us. (= She hasn't visited us for ages.)

UNIT 20

Present perfect (I have done) or simple past (I did)?

- a It is often possible to use the present perfect (I have done) or the simple past (I did):
- I've lost my key. Have you seen it anywhere?

or: I lost my key. Did you see it anywhere?

But do not use the present perfect to say when something happened (for example, yesterday, two years ago, when I was a child, etc.). Use a past tense in these sentences:

- I lost my key yesterday. (not have lost)
- Did you see the movie on TV last night? (not have you seen)
- I ate a lot of candy when I was a child. (not have eaten)

Use a past tense to ask when or what time something happened:

- What time did they arrive? (not have they arrived)
- When were you born? (not have been born)

- b Do not use the present perfect (I have done) for happenings and actions that are not connected with the present (for example, historical events):

- The Chinese invented printing. (not have invented)
- How many symphonies did Beethoven compose? (not has . . . composed)

- c Now compare these sentences:

Present perfect (I have done)

I've smoked 20 cigarettes today.

Today is a period of time that continues up to the present. It is not a finished time. So we use the present perfect.

Dan hasn't been sick this year.

Have you seen Ann this morning?

(It is still morning.)

Have you seen Ann recently?

We've been waiting for an hour. (We are still waiting.)

Pierre has lived in Quebec for six years.

(He still lives there.)

I have never played golf (in my life).

The present perfect always has a connection with the present.

See Units 13–19.

Simple past (I did)

I smoked 20 cigarettes yesterday.

Yesterday is a finished time in the past. So we use the simple past.

Dan wasn't sick last year.

Did you see Ann this morning?

(It is now afternoon.)

Did you see Ann last week?

We waited (or were waiting) for an hour. (We are no longer waiting.)

Pierre lived in Quebec for ten years.

(He no longer lives there.)

I didn't play golf when I was on vacation last summer.

The simple past tells us only about the past.

See Units 11–12.

UNIT 21

Past perfect (I had done)

a Study this example situation:

at 10:30 Bye TOM	at 11:00 BELL ME	I went to a party last week. Tom went to the party too. Tom went home at 10:30. So, when I arrived at 11:00, Tom wasn't there. When I arrived at the party, Tom wasn't there. He had gone home. This is the past perfect (simple) tense: I/he/she (etc.) had (= I'd / he'd / she'd, etc.) gone I/he/she (etc.) hadn't gone had you/he/she (etc.) gone?
---------------------------------------	---------------------------------------	--

We form the past perfect with had + the past participle (gone/opened/written, etc.). For irregular past participles see Appendix 2.

Sometimes we talk about something that happened in the past:

- I arrived at the party.

We use the past perfect to say that something had already happened before this time:

- When I arrived at the party, Tom had already gone home.

Here are some more examples:

- When I got home, I found that someone had broken into my apartment and had stolen my fur coat.
- George didn't want to come to the movies with us because he had already seen the film twice.
- It was my first time in an airplane. I was very nervous because I had never flown before.

b The past perfect (I had done) is the past of the present perfect (I have done). Compare these situations:

Present	Past
I'm not hungry. I've just had lunch. The house is dirty. We haven't cleaned it for weeks.	I wasn't hungry. I'd just had lunch. The house was dirty. We hadn't cleaned it for weeks.

c Compare the past perfect (I had done) and the simple past (I did):

- "Was Tom there when you arrived?" "No, he had already gone home."
but: "Was Tom there when you arrived?" "Yes, but he went home soon afterward."
- Ann wasn't home when I called her. She was at work.
but: Ann had just gotten home when I called her. She had been at work.

For the past perfect continuous see Unit 22.

UNIT 22

Past perfect continuous (I had been doing)

a Study this example situation:

Yesterday morning I got up and looked out the window. The sun was shining, but the ground was very wet.

It had been raining.

It wasn't raining when I looked out the window; the sun was shining. But it had been raining. That's why the ground was wet.

Had been raining is the past perfect continuous tense:

I/he/she (etc.) had (= I'd/he'd/she'd, etc.) been doing

Here are some more examples:

- When the boys came into the house, their clothes were dirty, their hair was a mess, and one had a black eye. They had been fighting.
- I was very tired when I arrived home. I'd been working hard all day.

b You can use the past perfect continuous to say how long something had been happening before something else happened:

- The soccer game had to be stopped. They had been playing for half an hour when there was a terrible storm.
- Ken had been smoking for 30 years when he finally gave it up.

c The past perfect continuous (I had been doing) is the past of the present perfect continuous (I have been doing). Compare:

Present	Past
How long have you been waiting? (until now)	How long had you been waiting when the bus finally came?
He's out of breath. He has been running.	He was out of breath. He had been running.

d Compare the past perfect continuous (I had been doing) with the past continuous (I was doing):

- When I looked out the window, it had been raining. (= It wasn't raining when I looked out; it had stopped.)
- When I looked out the window, it was raining. (= Rain was falling at the time I looked out.)

e Some verbs (for example, know) cannot be used in the continuous form. See Unit 3b for a list of these verbs.

For the past perfect simple see Unit 21.

UNIT 23

Have and have got a Have / has / had = possess, but we also use have for other things (for example, family relationships):

- We have a new car.
- I have a brother and two sisters.
- Tom has a headache / a cold / the flu / etc.
- When she was a child, she had long blonde hair.

In questions use do / does / did:

- How many brothers and sisters do you have?
- Does Ann have a car?
- Did you have a car when you lived in California? (not had you a car)

In negative sentences use don't / doesn't / didn't:

- I don't have any money.
- Ann doesn't have any brothers or sisters.
- I wanted to call you, but I didn't have your number. (not I hadn't your number)
- He didn't have a watch, so he didn't know what time it was.

b Have got / has got

You can use have got / has got rather than have / has alone:

- We've got a new car. (= We have a new car.)
- Tom has got a headache. (= Tom has a headache.)

The question and negative forms are:

- Have you got a headache? (= do you have)
- Has she got any brothers or sisters? (= does she have)
- I haven't got any money. (= I don't have)
- Ann hasn't got a car. (= Ann doesn't have)

But don't use got for the past:

- When she was a child, she had long blonde hair. (not she had got)

c Have for actions

We also use have for a number of actions (especially eating and drinking):

have breakfast / lunch / dinner / a meal / a cup of coffee / a cigarette / etc.
have a good time / a nice day / etc.	have a party (= give a party) have a look (at something)	have a baby (= give birth to a baby)

(You cannot use have got in these expressions.)

- I always have a big breakfast in the morning. (not have got)
- Did you have a good time last night?
- We're having a party on Saturday. Would you like to come?
- What time does Ann usually have lunch?

UNIT 24

Used to (I used to do)

a Study this example situation:

SMOKING SECTION

Before

NO SMOKING SECTION

Now

This is Dennis. He gave up smoking two years ago. He no longer smokes.

But he used to smoke. He used to smoke 40 cigarettes a day.

He used to smoke means that he smoked regularly for some time in the past, but he doesn't smoke now:

past ————— now

2 years ago

← he used to smoke →

he doesn't smoke now

We use used to with the base form (used to do / used to smoke, etc.) to say that something happened regularly in the past but no longer happens:

- I used to play tennis a lot, but now I'm too lazy.
- "Do you go to the movies very often?" "Not now, but I used to."
- Sue used to travel a lot. These days she doesn't go away very often.

We also use used to for past situations (that no longer exist):

- We used to live in a small village, but now we live in Milan.
- This building is now a furniture store. It used to be a movie theater.
- Do you see that hill over there? There used to be a castle on that hill.
- I've started drinking tea lately. I never used to like it before.
- Ann used to have long hair, but she cut it some time ago.

b Used to + base form is always past. There is no present. You cannot say "I use to do." For the present, use the simple present (I do). Compare the present and past:

past	he used to smoke	we used to live	there used to be
present	he smokes	we live	there is c The normal question form is did . . . use to . . . ?:

- Did you use to eat a lot of candy when you were a child?

The negative form is didn't use to . . . (or never used to)

- Jim didn't use to go out very often until he met Jill. (or never used to go out)

d Be careful not to confuse I used to do and I am used to doing (see Unit 59). The structures and meanings are different:

- I used to live alone. (= I lived alone but I no longer live alone.)
- I am used to living alone. (= I live alone and don't find it strange or new because I've been living alone for some time.)

Can, could, and be able to a We use can (do) to say that something is possible or that someone has the ability to do something. The negative is can't (cannot).

- You can see the ocean from our bedroom window.
- Can you speak any foreign languages?
- I'm afraid I can't come to your party next Friday.

Be able to is possible instead of can, but can is more usual:

- Are you able to speak any foreign languages?

But can has only two forms: can (present) and could (past). So sometimes you have to use be able to:

- I haven't been able to sleep recently. (can has no present perfect)
- Sue might not be able to come tomorrow. (can has no infinitive)
- I'm very busy today, but I should be able to meet with you tomorrow.

b Could and was able to Sometimes could is the past of can. We use could especially with these verbs:

see hear smell taste feel remember understand

- When we went into the house, we could smell something burning.
- She spoke in a low voice, but I could understand what she was saying.

We also use could to say that someone had the general ability to do something:

- My grandfather could speak five languages.
- When Joe was 16, he could run 100 meters in 11 seconds.

But if you mean that someone managed to do something in one particular situation, you have to use was/were able to (not could):

- The fire spread through the building very quickly, but everyone was able (= managed) to escape. (not could escape)
- They didn't want to come with us at first, but finally we were able (= managed) to persuade them. (not could persuade)

Compare could and was able to in this example:

- Jack was an excellent tennis player. He could beat anybody. (= He had the ability to beat anybody.)
- But once he had a difficult game against Bob. Bob played very well, but in the end Jack was able to beat him. (= He managed to beat him in this particular game.)

The negative couldn't is possible in all situations:

- My grandfather couldn't swim.
- We tried hard but we couldn't persuade them to come with us.

For can see also Unit 30. For could see also Units 26 and 30.

UNIT 26

Could (do) and could have (done)

a Study this example:

Dan: What do you want to do this evening?
Sue: We could go to the movies.

We use could (do) in a number of ways. Sometimes it is the past of can (do) (see Unit 25), but sometimes it has a present or future meaning. For example, we sometimes use could to talk about possible future actions, especially when we make suggestions:

“When you go to New York, you could stay with Linda.”

Can is also possible in these sentences. (“We can go to the movies.”)
Could is more unsure than can.

We also use could to talk about possible future happenings:

- There could be another rise in the price of gas soon. (= It is possible that there will be.)

Sometimes could means would be able to:

- Why doesn't Tom apply for the job? He could get it.
- I don't know how she works 14 hours a day. I couldn't do it.

b The past of could (do) is could have (done). We use could have (done) to say that we had the ability or the opportunity to do something but did not do it:

- We didn't go out last night. We could have gone to the movies, but we decided to stay home. (We had the opportunity to go out, but we didn't.)
- Why did you stay at a hotel in New York? You could have stayed with Linda. (You had the opportunity to stay with her but you didn't.)
- Why didn't Tom apply for the job? He could have gotten it. (He had the ability to get it.)

We also use could have (done) to say something was a possibility but didn't happen:

- He was lucky when he fell off the ladder. He could have hurt himself.

c Here are some examples of couldn't have (done). “I couldn't have done something” = I wouldn't have been able to do it if I had wanted or tried to do it:

- When I went to New York last year, I decided not to stay with Linda. Later I found out that she was away while I was there, so I couldn't have stayed with her anyway.
- The hockey game was canceled last week. Tom couldn't have played anyway because he was sick.

For could/couldn't see also Units 25, 27b, 28c, 30.

For could in if sentences see Units 34–35 and 36c.

UNIT 27

Must (have) and can't (have)

a Study this example situation:

Liz is a very good tennis player, and not many players beat her. But yesterday she played against Bill and Bill won. So:

Bill must be a very good player (otherwise he wouldn't have won).

We use must to say we are sure that something is true:

- You've been traveling all day. You must be tired. (= I am sure that you are tired.)
- I hear that your exams are next week. You must be studying very hard right now. (= I am sure that you are studying.)
- Carol knows a lot about films. She must like to go to the movies. (= I am sure she likes to go to the movies.)

We use can't to say that we think something is impossible:

- You've just had dinner. You can't be hungry already. (= It is impossible that you are hungry.)
- Tom said that he would be here ten minutes ago, and he is never late. He can't be coming.

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.)	{ must can't }	be tired/hungry, etc. be studying/waiting/coming, etc. know/like , etc.
-----------------	------------------------------------	--

b For the past we use must have (done) and can't have (done). Study this example:

We went to Roy's house last night and rang the doorbell. There was no answer. He must have gone out (otherwise he would have answered).

- The phone rang, but I didn't hear it. I must have been asleep.
- I made a lot of noise when I came home. You must have heard me.
- She passed me on the street without speaking. She can't have seen me.
- Tom walked into the wall. He can't have been looking where he was going.

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.)	{ must can't }	have	{ been asleep/tired, etc. been looking/waiting, etc. gone/done/seen/heard , etc.
-----------------	------------------------------------	-------------	--

"Couldn't have (done)" is possible instead of "can't have (done)":

- She couldn't have seen me.
- He couldn't have been looking where he was going.

For other meanings of must and can't see Units 25 and 31.

UNIT 28

May (have) and might (have)

a Study this example situation:

You are looking for Jack. Nobody knows for sure where he is, but you get some suggestions:

He may be in his office. (= perhaps he is in his office)

He might be having lunch. (= perhaps he is having lunch)

Ask Ann. She might know. (= perhaps Ann knows)

We use may or might to say that something is possible. You can say:

- He may be in his office. or He might be in his office.

The negative is may not and might not:

- Jack might not be in his office. (= perhaps he isn't in his office)
- I'm not sure whether I can lend you any money. I may not have enough.
(= perhaps I don't have enough)

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.) { may might } (not) { be in his office be having/waiting , etc. know/have/do , etc.

b To say what was possible in the past, we use may have (done) and might have (done):

- A: I wonder why Ann didn't answer the doorbell.
B: Well, I suppose she may have been asleep. (= perhaps she was asleep)
- A: Why didn't he say hello when he passed us on the street?
B: He might have been daydreaming. (= perhaps he was daydreaming)
- A: I can't find my bag anywhere.
B: You might have left it in the store. (= perhaps you left it)
- A: I wonder why Jill didn't come to the meeting.
B: She might not have known about it. (= perhaps she didn't know)

Study the structure:

I/you/he (etc.) { may might } (not) have { been asleep been daydreaming/waiting , etc. known/left/had , etc.

c You can use could instead of may or might. But with could the possibility is smaller:

- "Where's Jack?" "I'm not sure. He could be in his office, I suppose, but he's not usually there at this time."

For may and might see also Units 29 and 30.

UNIT 29

May and might (future)

a We use may or might to talk about possible happenings or possible actions in the future. Study these examples:

- I'm not sure where to go on my vacation, but I may go to Puerto Rico.
(= perhaps I will go)
- The weather forecast is not very good. It might rain this afternoon.
(= perhaps it will rain)
- I can't help you. Why don't you ask Tom? He might be able to help you.
(= perhaps he will be able to help)

The negative form is may not or might not:

- Ann may not come to the party tonight. She isn't feeling well.
(= perhaps she won't come)
- There might not be a meeting on Friday because the director is sick.
(= perhaps there won't be a meeting)

It doesn't matter whether you use may or might. You can say:

- I may go to Italy. or I might go to Italy.

b There is also a continuous form: may/might be doing. Compare this with will be doing (see Unit 10a,b):

- Don't call at 8:30. I'll be watching the football game on TV.
- Don't call at 8:30. I may (or might) be watching the football game on TV.
(= perhaps I'll be in the middle of watching it)

You can also use the continuous (may/might be doing) when you are talking about possible plans. Compare:

- I'm going to Puerto Rico in July. (for sure)
- I may (or might) be going to Puerto Rico in July. (it's possible)

But you can also say: I may/might go to Puerto Rico in July.

c May as well, might as well

Study this example:

A: What do you want to do this evening?
B: I don't know. Any ideas?
A: Well, there's a movie on television. It sounds interesting.
B: We might as well watch it. There's nothing else to do.

We use may/might as well to say that we should do something, but only because there is no reason not to do it and because there is nothing better to do. We might as well watch it means, "Why not watch it? There's nothing better to do."

- You'll have to wait an hour for the next bus, so you might as well walk.
- We may as well go to the party. We have nothing else to do.
- "Should we have dinner now?" "We might as well."

For may and might see also Units 28 and 34c. For may only, see Unit 30.

UNIT 30

Can, could, may, and would: requests, permission, offers, and invitations

a Asking people to do things (requests)

We often use can or could when we ask someone to do something:

Can you wait a moment, please?

Ann, can you do me a favor?

Excuse me. Could you tell me how to get to the bus station?

Do you think you could lend me some money?

I wonder if you could help me.

We also use would to ask someone to do something:

Ann, would you do me a favor?

Would you wait here, please?

b To ask for something you can say Can I have . . . ? / Could I have . . . ? / May I have . . . ?:

- (in a gift shop) Can I have these postcards, please?
- (at the dinner table) Could I have the salt, please?

c Asking for and giving permission

We often use can, could, or may to ask permission to do something:

- (on the telephone) Hello, can I speak to Tom, please?
- "Could I use your telephone?" "Yes, of course."
- "Do you think I could borrow your bicycle?" "Yes, help yourself."
- "May I come in?" "Yes, please do."

To give permission, we use can or may (but not could):

- You can (or may) smoke if you like.

d We sometimes use can or may when we offer to do things. (May is more formal.):

- "Can I get you a cup of coffee?" "That's very nice of you."
- (in a store) "May I help you, ma'am?" "No thank you. I'm being helped."

e For offering and inviting we use Would you like . . . ? (not do you like):

- Would you like a cup of coffee? (not do you like)
- Would you like to go to the movies with us tomorrow evening? (not do you like to come)

I'd like (= I would like) is a polite way of saying what you want or what you want to do:

- I'd like some information about hotels, please.
- I'd like to try on this jacket, please.

UNIT 31

Have to and must

a We use have to (do) and must (do) to say that it is necessary to do something:

- Oh, it's later than I thought. I $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{have to} \\ \text{must} \end{array} \right\}$ go now.
- You $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{have to} \\ \text{must} \end{array} \right\}$ have a passport to visit most foreign countries.

There is sometimes a difference between must and have to. With must the speaker is expressing personal feelings, saying what he or she thinks is necessary:

- I must write to Ann. I haven't written to her for ages. (= The speaker personally feels that he or she must write to Ann.)
- The government really must do something about unemployment. (= The speaker personally feels that the government must do something.)

With have to the speaker is not expressing feelings. The speaker is just giving facts. For example:

- Karen's eyes are not very good. She has to wear glasses for reading.
- I can't meet you on Friday. I have to work.

b You use must to talk only about the present and future:

- We must go now.
- Must you leave tomorrow?

Have to can be used in all forms. For example:

- I had to go to the hospital. (past)
- I might have to go to the hospital. (base form)
- Have you ever had to go to the hospital? (present perfect)

Note that we use do/does/did with have to in questions and negative sentences:

- What do I have to do to get a driver's license? (not "have I to do")
- Why did you have to go to the hospital? (not "had you to go")
- Tom doesn't have to work on Saturdays. (not "hasn't to work")

c Mustn't and don't have to are completely different. "You mustn't do something" means "it is necessary that you do not do it":

- You mustn't tell anyone what I said. (= Don't tell anyone.)
- I promised I'd be on time. I mustn't be late. (= I must be on time.)

"You don't have to do something" means "it is not necessary to do it; you don't need to do it":

- I don't have to wear a suit to work, but I usually do.
- She stayed in bed this morning because she didn't have to go to work.

d You can use "have got to" instead of "have to." So you can say:

- I've got to work tomorrow. or I have to work tomorrow.

UNIT 32

Should

a Study this example:

Tom has just come back from the movies:

Ann: Hello, Tom. Did you enjoy the movie?

Tom: Yes, it was great. You should go and see it.

Tom is advising Ann to go and see the movie. “You should go” means that it would be a good thing to do. We often use should (do) when we say what we think is a good thing to do or the right thing to do.

- The government should do something about the economy.
- “Should we invite Sue to the party?” “Yes, I think we should.”

“You shouldn’t do something” means that it is not a good thing to do:

- You’ve been coughing a lot lately. You shouldn’t smoke so much.
- Tom really shouldn’t go out. He has too much homework to do.

Should is not as strong as must:

- You should stop smoking. (= It would be a good idea.)
- You must stop smoking. (= It is necessary that you stop.)

b We often use should when we ask for or give an opinion about something. Often we use I think / I don’t think / do you think?:

- I think the government should do something about the economy.
- I don’t think you should work so hard.
- “Do you think I should apply for this job?” “Yes, I think you should.”

c We also use should to say something is not “right” or not what we expect:

- The price on this package is wrong. It says 65¢ but it should be 50¢.
- Those children shouldn’t be playing. They should be at school.

d For the past, we use should have (done) to say that someone did the wrong thing:

- The party was great. You should have come. Why didn’t you?
- I feel sick. I shouldn’t have eaten so much chocolate.
- She shouldn’t have been listening to our conversation. It was private.

e We also use should to say that something will probably happen:

- A: Do you think you’ll be home late tonight?
- B: I don’t think so. I should be home at the usual time.

Here, “I should be home” means “I will probably be home.” You can use should to say what will probably happen.

f You can use ought to instead of should in the sentences in this unit:

- It’s really a good movie. You ought to go and see it.
- She’s been studying very hard, so she ought to pass the exam.

UNIT 33

Subjunctive (I suggest you do)

a Study this example:

Mary said to Pete, "Why don't you buy some new clothes?"

Mary suggested (that) Pete buy some new clothes.

The subjunctive is always the same as the base form (I buy, he buy, she buy, etc.).

I/he/she/it	}	do/buy/be, etc.
we/you/they

b You can use the subjunctive after these verbs:

suggest propose recommend insist demand

- I suggest (that) you take a vacation.
- They insisted (that) we have dinner with them.
- I insisted (that) he have dinner with me.
- He demanded (that) she apologize to him.
- The doctor recommended (that) I rest for a few days.

You can use the subjunctive for the present, past, or future:

- I insist (that) you come with us.
- They insisted (that) I go with them.

Note the subjunctive be (usually passive):

- I insisted (that) something be done about the problem.
- The chairperson proposed (that) the plans be changed.

c Other structures are possible after insist and suggest:

- They insisted on my having dinner with them. (see Unit 57a)
- It was a beautiful evening, so I suggested going for a walk. (see Unit 51)

You cannot use the infinitive after suggest:

- She suggested that he buy some new clothes. (not suggested him to buy)
- What do you suggest I do? (not suggest me to do)

d Should is sometimes used instead of the subjunctive.

- She suggested that he should buy some new clothes.
- The doctor recommended that I should rest for a few days.

UNIT 34

If sentences (present/future)

a Compare these examples:

Tom: I think I left my lighter at your house. Have you seen it?

Ann: No, but I'll look. If I find it, I'll give it to you.

In this example there is a real possibility that Ann will find the lighter. So she says: "If I find ... I'll ..." (see also Unit 9c).

Ann: If I found a $100 bill on the street, I would keep it.

This is a different type of situation. Ann is not thinking about a real possibility; she is imagining the situation. So she says: "If I found ... I would ..." (not "If I find ... I'll ...").

When you imagine a future happening like this, you use a past tense form (did/came/found, etc.) after if. But the meaning is not past:

- What would you do if you won a million dollars?
- If we didn't go to their party next week, they would be very angry.
- Ann wouldn't lend me any money if I asked her.

b We do not normally use would in the if part of the sentence:

- I'd be very frightened if someone pointed a gun at me. (not if someone would point)
- If we didn't go to their party next week, they would be angry. (not if we wouldn't go)

Sometimes it is possible to say if . . . would, especially when you ask someone to do something in a formal way:

- I would be very grateful if you would send me your brochure and price list as soon as possible. (from a formal letter)

c In the other part of the sentence (not the if part) we use would/wouldn't. Would is often shortened to 'd, especially in spoken English:

- If you stopped smoking, you'd probably feel healthier.
- They wouldn't come to the party if you invited them.

You can also use could and might:

- They might be angry if I didn't visit them. (= perhaps they would be)
- If it stopped raining, we could go out. (= we would be able to go out)

d Do not use when in sentences like the ones in this unit:

- Tom would be angry if I didn't visit him. (not when I didn't visit)
- What would you do if you were bitten by a snake? (not when you were)

See also Unit 9c.

For if sentences see also Units 35 and 36.

UNIT 35

If and wish sentences (present)

a Study this example situation:

Tom wants to call Sue, but he can't because he doesn't know her telephone number. He says:

If I knew her number, I would call her.

Tom says "If I knew her number . . ." This tells us that he doesn't know her number. He is imagining the situation. The real situation is that he doesn't know her number.

When you imagine a situation like this, you use a past tense form ("I did / I had / I knew," etc.) after if. But the meaning is present, not past:

- Tom would travel if he had more money. (but he doesn't have much money)
- If I didn't want to go, I wouldn't. (but I want to go)
- We wouldn't have any money if we didn't work. (but we work)

b We also use the past for a present situation after wish. We use wish to say that we regret something, that something is not as we would like it to be:

I wish I knew Sue's telephone number. (I don't know it.)

Do you ever wish you could fly? (You can't fly.)

I wish it didn't rain so much in this city. (It rains a lot.)

It's crowded here. I wish there weren't so many people. (There are a lot of people.)

I wish I didn't have to work. (I have to work.)

c In if sentences and after wish we use were instead of was:

- If I were you, I wouldn't buy that coat. (but I am not you)
- I'd go out if it weren't raining. (but it is raining)
- I wish my room were larger. (but it isn't very large)

d Do not use would in the if part of the sentence or after wish:

- If I were rich, I would buy a castle. (not if I would be rich)
- I wish I were taller. (not I wish I would be taller.)

But sometimes I wish . . . would . . . is possible. See Unit 37.

Could sometimes means "would be able to" and sometimes "was able to":

- She could (= would be able to) get a job more easily if she could (= was able to) type.

For if sentences and wish see also Units 34, 36, and 37.

UNIT 36

If and wish sentences (past)

a Study this example situation:

Last month Ann was sick. Tom didn't know this, and he didn't go to see her. They met again after Ann got better. Tom said:

If I had known that you were sick, I would have gone to see you.

The real situation was that Tom didn't know Ann was sick. So he says If I had known . . . When you are talking about the past, you use the past perfect (I had done / I had been / I had known, etc.) after if.

- If I had seen you when you passed me in the street, I would have said hello. (but I didn't see you)
- I would have gone out if I hadn't been so tired. (but I was too tired)
- If he had been looking where he was going, he wouldn't have walked into the wall. (but he wasn't looking)

Do not use would (have) in the if part of the sentence:

- If I had seen you, I would have said hello. (not if I would have seen)

Both would and had can be shortened to 'd:

- If I'd seen (= had seen) you, I'd have said (= would have said) hello.

b Use the past perfect (I had done) after wish when you say that you regret something that happened or didn't happen in the past:

- I wish I had known that Ann was sick. I would have gone to see her. (I didn't know that she was sick.)
- I feel sick. I wish I hadn't eaten so much. (I ate too much.)
- Do you wish you had studied science instead of languages? (You didn't study science.)
- The weather was terrible. I wish it had been warmer. (It wasn't warm.)

You cannot use would have after wish:

- I wish it had been warmer. (not would have been)

c Would have (done) is the past form of would (do):

- If I had gone to the party last night, I would be tired now. (I am not tired now – present.)
- If I had gone to the party last night, I would have seen Ann. (I didn't see Ann – past.)

Might have and could have are possible instead of would have:

- If we'd played better, we might have won. (= perhaps we would have won)
- We could have gone out if the weather hadn't been so bad. (= we would have been able to go out)

For if sentences and wish see also Units 34, 35, and 37.

UNIT 37

Would

For would and would have in if sentences (conditional), see Units 34, 35, and 36. For would in offers, invitations, etc., see Unit 30. This unit explains some other uses of would.

a Sometimes we use would after I wish . . . Study this example:

It is raining. Tom wants to go out, but not in the rain. He says:

I wish it would stop raining.

This means that Tom is complaining about the rain and wants it to stop. We use I wish . . . would . . . when we want something to happen or somebody to do something. The speaker is complaining about the present situation.

- I wish someone would answer that telephone. It's been ringing for about five minutes.
- The music next door is very loud. I wish they would turn it down.

We often use I wish . . . wouldn't to complain about the way people do things:

- I wish you wouldn't drive so fast. It makes me nervous.

We use I wish . . . would when we want something to change or somebody else to do something. So you cannot say "I wish I would . . ."

For more information about wish, see Units 35 and 36.

b Would/wouldn't is sometimes the past of will/won't:

present Tom: I'll lend you some money, Ann.

past Tom said that he would lend Ann some money.

present Ann: I promise I won't be late.

past Ann promised that she wouldn't be late.

present Tom: Darn it! The car won't start.

past Tom was angry because the car wouldn't start.

c You can also use would when you look back on the past and remember things that often happened:

- When we were children, we lived by the sea. In summer, if the weather was nice, we would all get up early and go for a swim.
- Whenever Linda was angry, she would just walk out of the room.

Used to is also possible in these sentences:

- . . . we all used to get up early and go . . .

See Unit 24 for used to.

UNIT 38

In case

a Study this example situation:

Jeff is a soccer referee. He always wears two watches during a game because it is possible that one watch will stop.

He wears two watches in case one of them stops.

In case one of them stops = “because it is possible that one of them will stop.”

Here are some more examples of in case:

- John might call tonight. I don't want to go out in case he calls. (= because it is possible that he will call)
- I'll draw a map for you in case you can't find our house. (= because it is possible that you won't be able to find it)

b Do not use will after in case. Use a present tense when you are talking about the future:

- I don't want to go out tonight in case Sue calls. (not “in case she will call”) c In case is not the same as if. Compare these sentences:

- We'll buy some more food if Tom comes. (= Perhaps Tom will come; if he comes, we'll buy some more food; if he doesn't come, we won't buy any more food.)
- We'll buy some more food in case Tom comes. (= Perhaps Tom will come; we'll buy some more food now, whether he comes or not; then we'll already have the food if he comes.)

Compare:

- This letter is for Ann. Can you give it to her if you see her?
- This letter is for Ann. Can you take it with you in case you see her?

d You can use in case to say why someone did something in the past:

- We bought some more food in case Tom came. (= because it was possible that Tom would come)
- I drew a map for her in case she couldn't find our house.
- We rang the bell again in case they hadn't heard it the first time.

e “In case of...” is different from in case. In case of fire means “if there is a fire”:

- In case of fire, please leave the building as quickly as possible.
- In case of emergency, telephone this number. (= if there is an emergency)

UNIT 39

Unless, as long as, and provided/providing (that)

- a Unless
Study this example situation:

Joe is always listening to music. If you speak to him normally, he can't hear you. If you want him to hear you, you have to shout.

Joe can't hear unless you shout.

This means: "Joe can hear only if you shout."
Unless means except if. We use unless to make an exception to something we say.

Here are some more examples of unless:

- Don't tell Ann what I said unless she asks you. (= except if she asks you)
- I'll come tomorrow unless I have to work. (= except if I have to work)
- I wouldn't eat between meals unless I were extremely hungry.
(= except if I were extremely hungry)

We often use unless in warnings:

- We'll be late unless we hurry. (= except if we hurry)
- Unless you work harder, you're not going to pass the exam. (= except if you work harder)
- The thief said he would hit me unless I told him where the money was.
(= except if I told him)

Instead of unless it is possible to say if . . . not:

- Don't tell Ann what I said if she doesn't ask you.
- We'll be late if we don't hurry.

- b As long as provided (that) providing (that)

These expressions mean but only if:

- You can use my car as long as (or so long as) you drive carefully.
(= but only if you drive carefully)
- Traveling by car is convenient provided (that) you have somewhere to park.
(= but only if you have somewhere to park)
- Providing (that) she studies hard, she should pass the exam. (= but only if she studies hard)

- c When you are talking about the future, do not use will with unless, as long as, provided, or providing. Use a present tense:

- We'll be late unless we hurry. (not unless we will hurry)
- Providing she studies hard . . . (not providing she will study)

See Unit 9 for more information about this rule.

UNIT 40

Passive (1) (be done / have been done)

a Active and passive Study this example:

This house was built in 1920.

This is a passive sentence. Compare:

Somebody built this house in 1920. (active)

This house was built in 1920. (passive)

We often prefer the passive when it is not so important who or what did the action. In this example, it is not so important (or not known) who built the house.

In a passive sentence, if you want to say who did or what caused the action, use by:

- This house was built by my grandfather. (= my grandfather built it)
- Have you ever been bitten by a dog? (= Has a dog ever bitten you?)

b In passive sentences we use the correct form of be (is/are/was/were/has been, etc.) + the past participle:

(be) done (be) cleaned (be) damaged (be) built (be) seen

For irregular past participles (done/seen/written, etc.) see Appendix 2.

For the passive of the present and past tenses see Unit 41.

c We use the base form (... be done, be cleaned, be built, etc.) after modal verbs (will, can, must, etc.) and some other verbs (for example: have to, be going to, want to). Compare:

Active: We can solve this problem.

Passive: This problem can be solved.

- The new hotel will be opened next year.
- George might be sent to Venezuela by his company in August.
- The music at the party was very loud and could be heard from far away.
- This room is going to be painted next week.
- Go away! I want to be left alone.

d There is a past form after modal verbs: have been done / have been cleaned, etc.:

Active: Somebody should have cleaned the windows yesterday.

Passive: The windows should have been cleaned yesterday.

- My bicycle has disappeared. It must have been stolen.
- She wouldn't have been injured if she had been wearing a seat belt.
- The weather was terrible. The tennis match should have been canceled.

UNIT 41

Passive (2) (present and past tenses)

These are the passive forms of the present and past tenses:

Simple present am/is/are + done/cleaned, etc.

Active: Somebody cleans this room every day.

Passive: This room is cleaned every day.

Many accidents are caused by dangerous driving.

I'm not often invited to parties.

How many people are injured in car accidents every day?

Simple past was/were + done/cleaned, etc.

Active: Somebody cleaned this room yesterday.

Passive: This room was cleaned yesterday.

During the night we were all woken up by a loud explosion.

When was that castle built?

The house wasn't damaged in the storm, but a tree was blown down.

Present continuous am/is/are being + done/cleaned, etc.

Active: Somebody is cleaning the room right now.

Passive: The room is being cleaned right now.

Look at those old houses! They are being knocked down.

(shop assistant to customer) Are you being helped, ma'am?

Past continuous was/were being + done/cleaned, etc.

Active: Somebody was cleaning the room when I arrived.

Passive: The room was being cleaned when I arrived.

Suddenly I heard footsteps behind me. We were being followed.

Present perfect have/has been + done/cleaned, etc.

Active: The room looks nice. Somebody has cleaned it.

Passive: The room looks nice. It has been cleaned.

Have you heard the news? The President has been shot.

Have you ever been bitten by a dog?

I'm not going to the party. I haven't been invited.

Past perfect had been + done/cleaned, etc.

Active: The room looked much better. Somebody had cleaned it.

Passive: The room looked much better. It had been cleaned.

Jim didn't know about the change of plans. He hadn't been told.

UNIT 42

Passive (3)

- a Some verbs can have two objects. For example, offer:
- They didn't offer Ann the job. (the two objects are Ann and the job)

So it is possible to make two different passive sentences:

- Ann wasn't offered the job.
- The job wasn't offered to Ann.

It is more usual for the passive sentence to begin with the person.

Other verbs like offer that can have two objects are:

ask tell give send show teach pay

Here are some examples of passive sentences with these verbs:

- I was given two hours to make my decision. (= they gave me two hours)
- The men were paid $1500 to do the job. (= someone paid the men $1500)
- Have you been shown the new machine? (= has anyone shown you the new machine?)

- b Born: Remember that be born is a passive verb and is usually past:

- Where were you born? (not are you born) } simple past
- I was born in Chicago. (not I am born) }
- How many babies are born in this hospital every day? –simple present

- c The passive -ing form is being done / being cleaned, etc.:

Active: I don't like people telling me what to do.

Passive: I don't like being told what to do.

- I remember being given a toy drum on my fifth birthday. (= I remember someone giving me . . .)
- Hurry up! You know Mr. Miller hates being kept waiting. (= he hates people keeping him waiting)
- She climbed over the wall without being seen. (= without anyone seeing her)

- d Sometimes you can use get instead of be in the passive:

- There was a fight at the party, but nobody got hurt. (= nobody was hurt)
- Did Ann get fired from her new job? (= was Ann fired from her new job?)

You can use get in the passive to say that something happens to someone or something.

Often the action is not planned; it happens by chance:

- The dog got run over by a car. (= the dog was run over)

In other types of situation get is not usually possible:

- George is liked by everyone. (not gets liked)

Get is used mainly in informal spoken English. You can use be in all situations.

UNIT 43

It is said that ... / He is said to ..., etc., and supposed to

a Study this example situation:

This is Mary. She is very old, and nobody knows exactly how old she is. But:

It is said that she is 108 years old.

She is said to be 108 years old.

Both these sentences mean: "People say that she is 108 years old."

You can also use these structures with:

thought	believed	reported	understood
known	expected	alleged	considered

It is said that Mary eats ten eggs a day.	or	Mary is said to eat ten eggs a day.
It is believed that the wanted man is living in New York.	or	The wanted man is believed to be living in New York.
It is expected that the strike will begin tomorrow.	or	The strike is expected to begin tomorrow.
It is alleged that he stole $100.	or	He is alleged to have stolen $100.
It was alleged that he stole $100.	or	He was alleged to have stolen $100.

These structures are often used in news reports:

It is reported that two people were killed in the explosion.	or	Two people are reported to have been killed in the explosion.
---	-----------	--

b Supposed to

Sometimes (be) supposed to means "said to":

- Let's go and see that movie. It's supposed to be very good. (= It is said to be very good; people say that it's very good.)
- He is supposed to have stolen $100. (= He is said to have stolen $100.)

But sometimes supposed to has a different meaning. You can use supposed to to say what is planned or arranged (and this is often different from what really happens):

- I'd better hurry. It's nearly 8:00. I'm supposed to be meeting Ann at 8:15. (= I arranged to meet Ann; I said I would meet Ann.)
- The train was supposed to arrive at 11:30, but it was 40 minutes late. (= The train should have arrived at 11:30, according to the schedule.)
- You were supposed to clean the windows. Why didn't you do it?

We use not supposed to to say what is not allowed or not advisable:

- You're not supposed to park here. (= You aren't allowed to park here.)
- Mr. Jenkins is much better after his illness, but he's still not supposed to do any heavy work.

UNIT 44

Have something done

a Study this example situation:

The roof of Bill's house was damaged in a storm, so he arranged for a worker to repair it. Yesterday the worker came and did the job.

Bill had the roof repaired yesterday.

This means: Bill didn't repair the roof himself. He arranged for someone else to do it for him.

- Compare:
- Bill repaired the roof. (= he did it himself)
 - Bill had the roof repaired. (= he arranged for someone else to do it)

Now study these sentences:

- Did Ann design her business cards herself or did she have them designed?
- Are you going to repair the car yourself, or are you going to have it repaired?

To say that we arrange for someone else to do something for us, we use the structure have something done. The word order is important: the past participle (done/repaired, etc.) comes after the object (the roof):

	have +	object +	past participle
Bill	had	the roof	repaired	yesterday.
Where did you	have	your hair	done?
We are	having	the house	painted	right now.
Tom has just	had	a telephone	installed	in his house.
How often do you	have	your car	serviced?
Why don't you	have	that coat	cleaned?
I want to	have	my picture	taken.

b "Get something done" is possible instead of have something done (mainly in informal spoken English):

- I think you should get your hair cut. (= have your hair cut)

c Have something done sometimes has a different meaning. For example:

- He had all his money stolen while he was on vacation.

This doesn't mean that he arranged for somebody to steal his money! "He had all his money stolen" means only: "All his money was stolen."

With this meaning, we use have something done to say that something (often something not nice) happened to someone: George had his nose broken in a fight. (= his nose was broken)

UNIT 45

Reported speech (1)

a Study this example situation:

You want to tell someone else what Tom said. There are two ways of doing this:

You can repeat Tom's words (direct speech):
Tom said, "I'm feeling sick."

Or you can use reported speech:
Tom said (that) he was feeling sick.

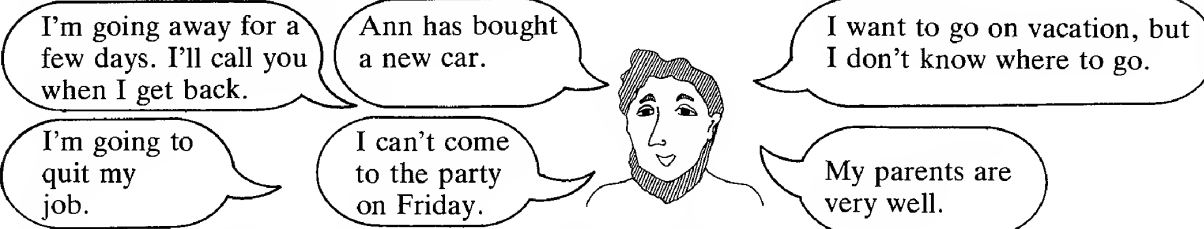

Compare the two sentences:

direct	Tom said, "I am feeling sick."	you use these to show it is direct speech
reported	Tom said (that) he was feeling sick.

b When we use reported speech, we are usually talking about the past. So verbs usually change to the past in reported speech. For example:

am/is → was have/has → had can → could are → were will → would do/want/know → did/wanted/knew, etc.

Study these examples. You met Tom. Here are some things he said to you:

I'm going away for a few days. I'll call you when I get back.

Ann has bought a new car.

I want to go on vacation, but I don't know where to go.

I'm going to quit my job.

I can't come to the party on Friday.

My parents are very well.

Now you tell someone else what Tom said (in reported speech):

- Tom said (that) his parents were very well.
- Tom said (that) he was going to quit his job.
- Tom said (that) Ann had bought a new car.
- Tom said (that) he couldn't come to the party on Friday.
- Tom said (that) he wanted to go on vacation, but he didn't know where to go.
- Tom said (that) he was going away for a few days and would call me when he got back.

c The simple past (I did) can usually stay the same in reported speech, or you can change it to the past perfect (I had done): did → did or had done direct Tom said "I woke up feeling sick and so I stayed in bed."

reported Tom said (that) he woke (or had woken) up feeling sick and so he stayed (or had stayed) in bed.

For reported speech see also Units 46 and 48b.

UNIT 46

Reported speech (2)

- a It is not always necessary to change the verb when you use reported speech. If you are reporting something and you feel that it is still true, you do not need to change the tense of the verb:

direct Tom said, "New York is bigger than London."
reported Tom said (that) New York is (or was) bigger than London.
direct Ann said, "I want to go to Turkey next year."
reported Ann said (that) she wants (or wanted) to go to Turkey next year.

Notice that it is also correct to change the verb into the past. But you must use a past tense when there is a difference between what was said and what is really true. Study this example situation:

You met Ann. She said, "Jim is sick." (direct speech)
 Later that day you see Jim playing tennis and looking fine. You say:
 "I'm surprised to see you playing tennis, Jim. Ann said that you were sick."
 (not that you are sick, because he isn't sick)

Must, might, could, would, should, and ought stay the same in reported speech. May in direct speech normally changes to might in reported speech.

b Say and tell

If you say who you are talking to, use tell:

- Tom told me (that) he didn't like Brian. (not Tom said me . . .)

Otherwise use say:

- Tom said (that) he didn't like Brian. (not Tom told (that) he . . .)

Also: you can't say "Tom told about his trip to Mexico." You have to say:

- Tom told us (or me/them/Ann, etc.) about his trip to Mexico.

If you don't say who he told, you have to say:

- Tom talked (or spoke) about his trip to Mexico. (but not said about)

c We also use the infinitive (to do/to stay, etc.) in reported speech, especially with tell and ask (for orders and requests):

direct "Stay in bed for a few days," the doctor said to me.
reported The doctor told me to stay in bed for a few days.
direct "Don't shout," I said to Jim. reported I told Jim not to shout.
direct "Please don't tell anyone what happened," Ann said to me.
reported Ann asked me not to tell anyone what (had) happened.
direct "Can you open the door for me, Tom?" Ann asked.
reported Ann asked Tom to open the door for her.

Said is also possible with the infinitive:

- The doctor said to stay in bed for a few days. (but not said me)

UNIT 47

Questions (1)

- a We usually make questions by changing the word order: we put the auxiliary verb (AV) before the subject (S): $S + AV \rightarrow AV + S$ it	is	→	is	it?	Is it raining?

you	can	→	can	you?	When can you come and see us?
Tom	has	→	has	Tom?	Where has Tom gone?

We make questions with the verb be in the same way:

they were	→	were they?	Were they surprised?
-----------	---	------------	-----------------------------

- b In simple present questions use do/does:

- Do you like music? (not like you)
- Do you have a light?
- Where does Jack live? (not where lives Jack)

In simple past questions use did:

- When did they get married? (not when got they)
- Why did Ann sell her car? (not why sold Ann)
- Did you have a good time?

But be careful with who/what/which questions. If who/what/which is the subject of the sentence, do not use do/does/did. Compare:

In these examples who/what/which is the subject:

- Who wants something to eat? (not who does want)
- Who invented the steam engine? (not who did invent)
- What happened to you last night? (not what did happen)
- Which switch operates this machine? (not which switch does operate)

- c We use negative questions especially:

To show surprise:

- Didn't you hear the bell? I rang it four times.

In exclamations:

- Doesn't that dress look nice! (= that dress looks nice)

When we expect the listener to agree with us:

- "Haven't we met somewhere before?" "Yes, I think we have."

Notice the meaning of yes and no in answers to negative questions:

- Didn't Dave pass his exams? — Yes. (= Yes, he passed them.)
 No. (= No, he didn't pass them.)

Note the word order in negative questions with Why ... ?:

- Why didn't you lock the door? (not why you didn't lock)
- Why don't we go out to eat? (not why we don't go)
- Why can't you help me? (not why you can't help me)
- Why wasn't Mary invited to the party? (not why Mary wasn't)

UNIT 48

Questions (2) (Do you know where ... ? / He asked me where ...)

- a When we ask people for information, we sometimes begin our question with Do you know ... ? or Could you tell me ... ?. If you begin a question in this way, the word order is different from the word order in a simple question:

Compare:	Where has Tom gone?	(simple question)
	X
	Do you know where Tom has gone?

When the question (Where has Tom gone?) is part of a bigger sentence (Do you know ...), it loses the normal question word order. Compare:

- When will Ann arrive? Do you have any idea when Ann will arrive?
- What time is it? Could you tell me what time it is?
- Why are you laughing? Tell us why you are laughing.

Be careful with do/does/did questions:

- When does the movie begin? Do you know when the movie begins?
- Why did Ann leave early? I wonder why Ann left early.

Use if or whether when there is no other question word:

- Did he see you? Do you know if (or whether) he saw you?

- b The same changes in word order happen in reported questions:

direct The police officer said to us, "Where are you going?"

reported The police officer asked us where we were going.

direct Tom said, "What time do the banks close?"

reported Tom wanted to know what time the banks closed.

In reported questions the verb usually changes to the past (were, closed). For more information about this see Unit 45.

Now study these examples. Here are some questions you were asked at a job interview:

Now you tell a friend (in reported speech) what the interviewer asked you:

- She asked (me) if I was presently employed.
- She asked whether (or if) I had a driver's license.
- She wanted to know whether (or if) I could type.
- She wanted to know how long I had been working in my present job.
- She asked (me) what I did in my spare time.
- She asked (me) why I had applied for the job. (or why I applied)

UNIT 49

Auxiliary verbs in short answers/ questions, etc.: So/Neither am I, etc.

a

Can you swim? I have lost my key. He might not come.

In these sentences can, have, and might are auxiliary (= helping) verbs.

We often use auxiliary verbs when we don't want to repeat something:

- "Are you working tomorrow?" "Yes, I am." (= I am working tomorrow)
- He could lend us the money, but he won't. (= he won't lend us the money)

Use do/does/did for simple present and past short answers:

- "Does he smoke?" "He did, but he doesn't anymore."

b

We use auxiliary verbs in short questions:

- "It rained every day during our vacation." "Did it?"
- "Ann isn't feeling very well today." "Oh, isn't she?"
- "I've just seen Tom." "Oh, have you? How is he?"

These short questions (Did it?, isn't she?, have you?) are not real questions. We use them to show polite interest in what someone has said, and they help to keep the conversation going.

Sometimes we use short questions to show surprise:

- "Jim and Sue are getting married." "Are they? Really?"

c

We also use auxiliary verbs with so and neither:

- "I'm feeling tired." "So am I." (= I am feeling tired too)
- "I never read newspapers." "Neither do I." (= I never read them either)

Note the word order after so and neither (verb before subject):

- I passed the exam and so did Tom. (not so Tom did)

Nor can be used instead of neither:

- "I can't remember her name." "Nor can I. / Neither can I."

Not . . . either can be used instead of neither and nor:

- "I don't have any money." "Neither do I." or "I don't either."

d

I think so / hope so, etc.

We use so in this way after a number of verbs, especially think, hope, guess, suppose, and I'm afraid:

- "Is she Canadian?" "I think so."
- "Will Eric come?" "I guess so."
- "Has Ann been invited to the party?" "I suppose so."

The negative form depends on the verb:

I think so	- I don't think so
I hope so / I'm afraid so	- I hope not / I'm afraid not
I guess	- I guess not
I suppose so	- I don't suppose so or I suppose not

- "Is she Italian?" "I don't think so."
- "Is it going to rain?" "I hope not. (not I don't hope so)
- "Are you going to drive in this snowstorm?" "I guess not."

UNIT 50

Tag questions (are you? doesn't he?, etc.)

a

You're not working late, are you? It was a good film, wasn't it?

Are you? and wasn't it? are tag questions (= mini-questions that we put on the end of a sentence). In tag questions we use the auxiliary verb (see Unit 49). For the present and past use do/does/did: They came by car, didn't they?

b

Normally we use a positive tag question with a negative sentence:

negative sentence	+	positive tag
Tom won't be late,		will he?
They don't like us,		do they?
That isn't George over there,		is it?

And normally we use a negative tag question with a positive sentence:

positive sentence	+	negative tag
Ann will be here soon,		won't she?
Tom should pass his exam,		shouldn't he?
They were very angry,		weren't they?

Notice the meaning of yes and no in answers to tag questions:

- You're not going to work today, are you? $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Yes. (= I am going)} \\ \text{No. (= I'm not going)} \end{array} \right.$

c

The meaning of a tag question depends on how you say it. If the voice goes down, you aren't really asking a question; you are only asking the other person to agree with you:

- "Tom doesn't look very well today, does he?" "No, he looks awful."
- She's very attractive. She has beautiful eyes, doesn't she?

But if the voice goes up, it is a real question:

- "You haven't seen Ann today, have you?" "No, I'm afraid I haven't."
(= Have you seen Ann today?)

We often use a negative sentence + positive tag to ask for things or information, or to ask someone to do something. The voice goes up at the end of the tag in sentences like these:

- "You wouldn't have a cigarette, would you?" "Yes, here you are."
- "You couldn't do me a favor, could you?" "It depends what it is."
- "You don't know where Ann is, do you?" "Sorry, I have no idea."

d

After Let's... the tag question is shall we?:

- Let's go out for a walk, shall we?

After the imperative (do/don't do something) the tag is will you?:

- Open the door, will you?

Notice that we say aren't I? (= am I not):

- I'm late, aren't I?

UNIT 51

Verb + ing

a

stop	enjoy	dislike	admit	consider	miss finish	mind	imagine	deny	involve	postpone delay	suggest	regret	avoid	practice	risk

If these verbs are followed by another verb, the structure is usually verb + -ing:

- Stop talking!
- I'll do the shopping when I've finished cleaning the apartment.
- I don't miss working late every night.
- Have you ever considered going to live in another country?
- I can't imagine George riding a motorcycle.
- When I'm on vacation, I enjoy not having to get up early.

The following expressions also take -ing:

give up (= stop)	keep or keep on (= do something continuously or repeatedly) go on (= continue) put off (= postpone)

- Are you going to give up smoking?
- He kept (on) interrupting me while I was speaking.

Note the passive form (being done / being seen / being told, etc.):

- I don't mind being told what to do.

You cannot normally use the infinitive (to do / to dance, etc.) after these verbs and expressions:

- I enjoy dancing. (not to dance)
- Would you mind closing the door? (not to close)
- Jill suggested going to the movies. (not to go)

b

When you are talking about finished actions, you can also say having done / having stolen, etc. But it is not necessary to use this form. You can also use the simple -ing form for finished actions:

- He admitted stealing (or having stolen) the money.
- They now regret getting (or having gotten) married.

c

With some of the verbs in this unit (especially admit, deny, regret, and suggest) you can also use a that... structure:

- He denied that he had stolen the money. (or denied stealing)
- Jill suggested that we go to the movies. (or suggested going)

For suggest see also Unit 33.

For verbs + -ing see also Units 54 and 55.

UNIT 52

Verb + infinitive

a

agree	offer	decide	appear	forget	need refuse	attempt	plan	seem	learn (how)	mean promise	manage	arrange	pretend	dare	intend threaten	fail	hope	afford	tend

If these verbs are followed by another verb, the structure is usually verb + infinitive:

- It was late, so we decided to take a taxi home.
- I like George, but I think he tends to talk too much.
- How old were you when you learned to drive? (or learned how to drive)
- They agreed to lend me some money when I told them the position I was in.
- He's lazy. He needs to work harder.
- I'm sorry. I didn't mean to hurt you.

Note these examples with the negative not to . . . :

- We decided not to go out because of the weather.
- She pretended not to see me as she passed me on the street.

With other important verbs you cannot use the infinitive. For example think and suggest:

- Are you thinking of buying a car? (not thinking to buy)
- Jill suggested going to the movies (not suggested to go)

b

There is a continuous infinitive (to be doing) and a perfect infinitive (to have done). We use these especially after seem, appear, and pretend:

- I pretended to be reading. (= I pretended that I was reading)
- You seem to have lost weight. (= it seems that you have lost weight)
- He appears to be doing a good job. (= it appears that he is doing a good job)

c

Dare: You can say dare to do or dare do (without to):

- I wouldn't dare to ask him. or I wouldn't dare ask him.

d

After the following verbs you can use a question word (what/where/how, etc.) + infinitive:

ask decide know remember forget explain understand

We asked	how	to get	to the station.
Have you decided	where	to go	for your vacation?
Tom explained (to me)	how	to change	the tire on the car.
I don't know	whether	to go	to the party or not.

Also: show/tell/ask someone what/how/where to do something:

- Can someone show me how to change the film in this camera?
- Ask Jack. He'll tell you what to do.

For verbs + infinitive see also Units 53–55.

UNIT 53

Verb + object + infinitive

a want ask expect help would like would prefer

There are two possible structures after these verbs:

verb + infinitive

I asked to see the manager.

We expected to be late.

He would like to come.

verb + object + infinitive

I asked Tom to help me.

We expected him to be late.

He would like me to come.

After help you can use the verb with or without to:

- Can somebody help me (to) move this table?

Be especially careful with want. Do not say "want that . . .":

- Everyone wanted him to win the race. (not wanted that he won)
- Do you want me to come early? (not want that I come)

b tell remind force enable persuade order warn invite teach (how) get (= persuade)

These verbs have the structure verb + object + infinitive:

- Remind me to call Ann tomorrow.
- Who taught you (how) to drive?
- He warned me not to touch anything.
- I got Jack to fix my car.

Here is an example in the passive:

- I was warned not to touch anything.

You cannot use suggest with the infinitive (see also Unit 33c):

- Tom suggested that I buy a car. (not Tom suggested me to buy)

c advise encourage allow permit

There are two possible structures after these verbs. Compare:

verb + -ing (without an object)

I wouldn't advise staying at that hotel.

They don't allow smoking in this building. (= Smoking is not allowed in this building.)

verb + object + infinitive

I wouldn't advise you to stay at that hotel.

They don't allow you to smoke in this building. (= You are not allowed to smoke in this building.)

d

Make and let

These verbs have the structure verb + base form (do, read, etc.):

- Hot weather makes me feel uncomfortable. (= causes me to feel)
- I only did it because they made me do it. (= forced me to do it)
- She wouldn't let me read the letter. (= allow me to read)

Do not use to after make and let:

- They made me do it. (not they made me to do it)
- Tom let me drive his car yesterday. (not Tom let me to drive)

But in the passive make is followed by to (to do):

- I only did it because I was made to do it.

UNIT 54

Infinitive or -ing? (1) – like, would like, etc.

a

like	hate	can't bear
love	can't stand

After these verbs and expressions you can use -ing or the infinitive.

- I like getting up early. or I like to get up early.
- I love meeting people. or I love to meet people.
- I hate washing dishes. or I hate to wash dishes.
- She can't stand being alone. or She can't stand to be alone.
- He can't bear living in the city. or He can't bear to live in the city.

b

dislike	enjoy	mind
---------	-------	------

After these verbs you can use -ing, but not the infinitive:

- I enjoy being alone. (not enjoy to be)
- Why do you dislike living here? (not dislike to live)
- Tom doesn't mind working at night. (not mind to work)

c

Would like is followed by the infinitive:

- I would like to be rich.
- Would you like to come to a party?

Notice the difference in meaning between I like and I would like. I would like is a polite way of saying I want. Compare:

- I like playing tennis. or I like to play tennis. (= enjoy it in general)
- I would like to play tennis today. (= I want to play)

See also Unit 30.

We also use the infinitive after would love/hate/prefer:

- Would you prefer to have dinner now or later?
- I'd love to be able to travel around the world.

d

You can also say "I would like to have done something" (= I regret that I didn't or couldn't do something):

- It's too bad we didn't visit Tom. I would like to have seen him again.
- We'd like to have taken a vacation, but we didn't have enough money.

The same structure is possible after would love/hate/prefer:

- Poor Jim! I would hate to have been in his position.
- I'd love to have gone to the party, but it was impossible.
- We went to a restaurant but I didn't enjoy it. I'd prefer to have eaten at home.

UNIT 55

Infinitive or -ing? (2) – begin, start, continue, remember, try

a begin start continue

These verbs can usually be followed by -ing or the infinitive. So you can say:

- The baby began crying. or The baby began to cry.
- It has started raining. or It has started to rain.
- He continued working after his illness. or He continued to work after his illness.

b

Remember to do and remember doing

You remember to do something before you do it. Remember to do something is the opposite of “forget to do something”:

- I remembered to lock the door before I left, but I forgot to shut the windows. (= I remembered to lock the door, and then I locked it)
- Please remember to mail the letter. (= don’t forget to mail it)

You remember doing something after you do it. I remember doing something = I did something, and now I remember it:

- I clearly remember locking the door before I left. (= I locked it, and now I clearly remember this)
- He could remember driving along the road just before the accident happened, but he couldn’t remember the accident itself.

c

Try to do and try doing

Try to do = attempt to do, make an effort to do:

- I was very tired. I tried to keep my eyes open, but I couldn’t.
- Please try to be quiet when you come home. Everyone will be asleep.

Try doing

Try also means “do something as an experiment or test”:

- Try some of this tea – maybe you’ll like it. (= drink some of it to see if you like it)
- We tried every hotel in town, but they were all full. (= we went to every hotel to see if they had a room)

If try (with this meaning) is followed by a verb, we say try -ing:

- “I can’t find anywhere to live.” “Why don’t you try putting an ad in the newspaper?” (= do this to see if it helps you to find a place to live)
- I’ve got a terrible headache. I tried taking an aspirin, but it didn’t help. (= I took an aspirin to see if it would stop my headache)

UNIT 56

Preposition + -ing

- a If a verb comes after a preposition (in/at/with/about, etc.), the verb ends in -ing. Study these examples:

Are you interested	in	working	for us?
I'm not very good	at	learning	languages.
I'm fed up	with	studying.
The children are excited	about	going	on vacation.
What are the advantages	of	having	a car?
This knife is only	for	cutting	bread.
John went to work	in spite of	feeling	sick. (See Unit 104.)
I bought a new bicycle	instead of	going	away on vacation.

- b You can use -ing with before and after:

- Before going out I called Ann.

You can also say: "Before I went out I . . ."

- What did you do after leaving school?

You can also say: ". . . after you left school?"

- c You can use by -ing to say how something happened:

- They got into the house by breaking a kitchen window and climbing in.
- You can improve your English by doing a lot of reading.

- d You can use -ing after without:

- Jim left without finishing his dinner.
- She ran five miles without stopping.
- He climbed through the window without anybody seeing him. (or . . . without being seen.)
- She needs to work without people disturbing her. (or . . . without being disturbed.)
- It's nice to go on vacation without having to worry about money.

- e To is a part of the infinitive. For example:

- They decided to go out.
- I want to play tennis.

But to is also a preposition. For example:

- Tom went to Hawaii.
- I prefer cities to the country.
- He gave the book to Mary.
- I'm looking forward to the weekend.

If a preposition is followed by a verb, the verb ends in -ing (see section a). So, if to is a preposition and it is followed by a verb, you must say to -ing. For example:

- I prefer bicycling to driving. (not to drive)
- I'm looking forward to seeing Sue again. (not to see)

For be/get used to -ing see Unit 59.

UNIT 57

Verb + preposition + -ing a Many verbs have the structure verb (V) + preposition (P) + object. For example, talk about:

- We talked about the problem. (the problem is the object)

If the object is another verb, it ends in -ing:

- We talked about going to Japan. (V + P + -ing)

Here are some more verbs that have the structure V + P + -ing:

succeed in	Has Tom succeeded	in	finding a job yet?
feel like*	I don't feel	like	going out tonight.
think about/of	Are you thinking	of/about	buying a house?
dream of	I've always dreamed	of	being rich .
approve/disapprove of	She doesn't approve	of	smoking .
look forward to	I'm looking forward	to	meeting her .
insist on	She insisted	on	buying me a cup of coffee.
decide against	We decided	against	moving to California .
apologize for	He apologized	for	keeping me waiting .

I feel like doing = I'd like to do, I'm in the mood to do.

We say "apologize to someone for something":

- He apologized to me for keeping me waiting. (not he apologized me)

With some of these verbs you can also use the structure verb + preposition + someone + -ing. For example:

- We are all looking forward to Peter (or Peter's) coming home.
- She doesn't approve of her son (or son's) staying out late at night.
- They insisted on me (or my) staying with them. (See also Unit 33c.)

b These verbs have the structure verb + object + preposition + -ing:

accuse	They accused	me	of	telling lies .
suspect	Did they suspect	the man	of	being a spy?
congratulate	I congratulated	Ann	on	passing the exam .
prevent	What prevented	him	from	coming to the wedding?
stop	We stopped	everyone	from	leaving the building .
thank	I thanked	her	for	being so helpful .
forgive	Please forgive	me	for	not writing to you .
warn	They warned	us	against	buying the car .

Some of these verbs are often used in the passive:

- I was accused of telling lies.
- Was the man suspected of being a spy?
- We were warned against buying it.

UNIT 58

Expressions + -ing

When these expressions are followed by a verb, the verb ends in -ing:

It's no use . . .

- It's no use worrying about it. There's nothing you can do.
- It's no use trying to persuade me. You won't succeed.

There's no point in . . .

- There's no point in buying a car if you don't want to drive it.
- There was no point in waiting, so we went.

It's (not) worth . . .

- My house is only a short walk from here. It's not worth taking a taxi.
- It was so late when we got home, it wasn't worth going to bed.

You can say: "a book is worth reading / a movie is worth seeing, etc.:

- Do you think this book is worth reading?
- You should go and see that movie. It's really worth seeing.

(Have) difficulty/trouble . . .

- I had difficulty finding a place to live. (not to find)
- Did you have any trouble getting a visa?
- People often have great difficulty reading my writing.

Remember that we say "difficulty" (not difficulties) and "trouble" (not troubles):

- I'm sure you'll have no difficulty/trouble passing the exam.

You can also say "(have) difficulty in -ing":

- He's shy. He has difficulty in talking to people he doesn't know well.

A waste of money/time . . .

- It's a waste of time reading that book. It's trash.
- It's a waste of money buying things you don't need.

Spend/waste (time) . . .

- I spent hours trying to repair the clock.
- I waste a lot of time daydreaming.

Go -ing

We use go -ing for a number of activities (especially sports):

go shopping	go swimming	go skiing	go fishing
go climbing	go sailing	go riding	go sightseeing

- How often do you go swimming?
- I'm going skiing next year.
- I have to go shopping this morning.
- I've never been sailing.

For "I've been / I've gone" see Unit 13d.

UNIT 59

Be/get used to something (I'm used to . . .)

a Study this example situation:

Jane is American, but she has lived in Britain for three years. When she first drove a car in Britain, she found it very difficult because she had to drive on the left instead of on the right. Driving on the left was strange and difficult for her because:

She wasn't used to it.
She wasn't used to driving on the left.

After a lot of practice, driving on the left became less strange:

- She got used to driving on the left.

Now after three years, driving on the left is no problem for her:

- She is used to driving on the left.

I'm used to something = it is not new or strange for me:

- Frank lives alone. He doesn't mind this because he has lived alone for 15 years. So he is used to it. He is used to living alone.
- My new shoes felt a bit strange at first because I wasn't used to them.
- Our new apartment is on a very busy street. I suppose we'll get used to the noise, but at the moment we find it very annoying.
- Fred has a new job. He has to get up much earlier – at 6:30. He finds this difficult right now because he isn't used to getting up so early.

b Notice that we say “She is used to driving on the left.” (not she is used to drive). To in be/get used to is a preposition, not a part of the infinitive (see also Unit 56e). So we say:

- Frank is used to living alone. (not is used to live)
- Jane had to get used to driving on the left. (not get used to drive)

c Do not confuse I am used to doing (be/get used to) with I used to do. They are different in structure and in meaning.

I am used to (doing) something = something isn't strange for me:

- I am used to the weather in this country.
- I am used to driving on the left because I've lived in Britain a long time.

I used to do something means only that I did something regularly in the past (see Unit 24). You can't use this structure for the present. The structure is “I used to do” (not I am used to do):

- Nowadays I usually stay in bed until late. But when I had a job, I used to get up early.

UNIT 60

Infinitive of purpose – “I went out to mail a letter.” So that . . .

a We use the infinitive (to do) to talk about the purpose of doing something (= why someone does something):

- I went out to mail a letter. (= because I wanted to mail a letter)
- She called me to invite me to a party.
- We shouted to warn everyone of the danger.

We also use the infinitive to talk about the purpose of something, or why someone has/wants/needs something:

- This wall is to keep people out of the garden.
- The President has two bodyguards to protect him.
- I need a bottle opener to open this bottle.

You can also use in order to (do something):

- We shouted in order to warn everyone of the danger.

Do not use for in these sentences:

- I'm going to Mexico to learn Spanish. (not for learning / for to learn)

b We also use the infinitive to say what can be done or must be done with something:

- It's usually difficult to find a place to park downtown. (= a place where you can park)
- Do you have a lot of work to do this evening? (= work that you must do)
- Would you like something to eat?
- There were no chairs to sit on, so we all had to sit on the floor.
- She is lonely. She has nobody to talk to.

We also say time/opportunity/chance/money/energy to do something:

- They gave me some money to buy some food. (not for buying)
- Did you have time to answer all the questions on the exam?
- These days I don't get much chance to watch television. I'm too busy.
- Do you have much opportunity to speak English? (= much chance to speak)

c Sometimes you have to use so that (not the infinitive) to talk about the purpose of doing something. We use so that:

i) when the purpose is negative (so that . . . won't/wouldn't . . .):

- I hurried so that I wouldn't be late. (= because I didn't want to be late)
- Leave early so that you won't (or don't) miss the bus.

ii) with can and could (so that . . . can/could . . .):

- He's learning English so that he can study in the United States.
- We moved to London so that we could visit our friends more often.

iii) when one person does something so that another person does something else:

- I gave him my address so that he could contact me.
- He wore glasses and a false beard so that nobody would recognize him.

UNIT 61

Prefer and would rather a Prefer to do and prefer doing

You can use “prefer to do” or “prefer doing” to say what you prefer in general.

- I don't like cities. I prefer to live (or I prefer living) in the country.

Study the difference in structure:

	I prefer	(doing)	something	to (doing)	something else
but:	I prefer	to do	something	rather than (do)	something else

- I prefer tea to coffee.
- Tom prefers driving to traveling by train.

but: Tom prefers to drive rather than travel by train.

- I prefer to live in the country rather than (live) in a city.

Use would prefer to say what someone wants (to do) in a particular situation. You can say would prefer to (do) or would prefer (doing):

- “Would you prefer tea or coffee?” “Coffee, please.”
- “Should we go by train?” “Well, I’d prefer to go by car.” or “Well, I’d prefer going by car.”

b Would rather (do) = would prefer to do. After would rather we use the base form. Compare:

Should we go by train?	{	Well, I’d prefer to go by car.
		Well, I’d rather go by car. (not to go)

- “Would you rather have tea or coffee?” “Coffee, please.”
- I’m tired. I’d rather not go out this evening, if you don’t mind.
- “Do you want to go out this evening?” “I’d rather not.”

Note the structure:

I’d rather do something than (do) something else
--

- I’d rather stay at home than go to the movies.

c Would rather someone did something

When you want someone else to do something, you can say I’d rather you did . . . / I’d rather he did . . ., etc. We use the past in this structure, but the meaning is present or future, not past. Compare:

I’d rather cook dinner now.
I’d rather you cooked dinner now. (not I’d rather you cook)

- “Shall I stay here?” “Well, I’d rather you came with us.”
- I’d rather you didn’t tell anyone what I said.
- “Do you mind if I smoke?” “I’d rather you didn’t.”

UNIT 62

Had better do something It's time someone did something a Had better do something

The meaning of had better (I'd better) is similar to should. "I'd better do something" = I should do something or it is advisable for me to do something; if I don't do this, something bad might happen:

- I have to meet Tom in ten minutes. I'd better go now or I'll be late.
- "Should I take an umbrella?" "Yes, you'd better. It might rain."
- We've almost run out of gas. We'd better stop at the next gas station to fill up.

The negative form is had better not ('d better not):

- You don't look very well. You'd better not go to work today.
- "Are you going out tonight?" "I'd better not. I've got a lot of work to do."

The form is always "had better" (usually 'd better in spoken English). We say had but the meaning is present or future, not past:

- I'd better go to the bank this afternoon.

Remember that had better is followed by the base form (not to . . .):

- It might rain. We'd better take an umbrella. (not better to take)

b It's time . . .

You can say "it's time (for someone) to do something":

- It's time to go home.
- It's time for us to go home.

There is another structure: It's time someone did something:

- It's nearly midnight. It's time we went home.

We use the past (went) after It's time someone . . ., but the meaning is present or future, not past:

- Why are you still in bed? It's time you got up. (not time you get up)

We use the structure It's time someone did something especially when we are complaining or criticizing, or when we think someone should have already done something:

- It's time the children were in bed. It's long past their bedtime.
- You've been wearing the same clothes for ages. Isn't it time you bought some new ones?
- I think it's time the government did something about pollution.

We also say { "It's high time"
"It's about time" } someone did something."

This makes the complaint or criticism stronger:

- You're very selfish. It's high time you realized that you're not the most important person in the world.
- It's about time Jack did some studying for his exams.

UNIT 63

See someone do and see someone doing

a Study this example situation:

Tom got into his car and drove away. You saw this. You can say:

- I saw Tom get into his car and drive away.

In this structure we use the base form (get, drive, etc.):

Remember that we use the base form (not to):

- I saw her go out. (not to go out)

b Now study this example situation:

Yesterday you saw Ann. She was waiting for a bus. You can say:

- I saw Ann waiting for a bus.

In this structure we use -ing (waiting):

c Now study the difference in meaning between the two structures:

“I saw him do something” = he did something (simple past) and I saw this. I saw the complete action from beginning to end:

- He fell to the ground. I saw this. → I saw him fall to the ground.
- The accident happened. We saw this. → We saw the accident happen.

“I saw her doing something” = she was doing something (past continuous) and I saw this. I saw her when she was in the middle of doing something. This does not mean that I saw the complete action:

- She was walking along the street. I saw this when I drove past in my car. → I saw her walking along the street.

The difference is not always important. Sometimes you can use either form:

- I've never seen Tom dance. or I've never seen Tom dancing.

d We use these structures especially with see and hear, and also with watch, listen to, feel, and notice:

- | | |
|--|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ I didn't hear you come in. ■ He suddenly felt someone touch him on the shoulder. ■ Did you notice anyone go out? | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ I could hear it raining. ■ The missing girls were last seen playing near the river. ■ Listen to the birds singing! |
|--|---|

After smell and find you can use the -ing structure only:

- Can you smell something burning?
- She found him reading her letters.

UNIT 64

-ing clauses – “Feeling tired, I went to bed early.”

a A clause is a part of a sentence. Some sentences have two clauses:

- Feeling tired, I went to bed early.

In this sentence, “I went to bed early” is the main clause.

Feeling tired is the -ing clause.

b When two things happen at the same time, you can use -ing for one of the verbs. The main clause usually comes first:

- She was sitting in an armchair reading a book. (= she was sitting, and she was reading)
- I ran out of the house shouting. (= I was shouting when I ran out of the house)

We also use -ing when one action happens during another. Use -ing for the longer action. The longer action is the second part of the sentence.

- Jim hurt his arm playing tennis. (= while he was playing)
- I cut myself shaving. (= while I was shaving)

You can also use -ing after while or when:

- Jim hurt his arm while playing tennis. (= while he was playing)
- Be careful when crossing the street. (= when you are crossing)

c When one action happens before another action, you can use having (done) for the first action:

- Having found a hotel, they looked for somewhere to have dinner.
- Having finished our work, we went home.

You could also say After -ing:

- After finishing our work, we went home.

If the second action happens immediately after the first, you can use the simple -ing form (doing instead of having done):

- Taking a key out of his pocket, he opened the door.

These structures are used mainly in written English.

d You can also use an -ing clause to explain something or to say why someone did something. The -ing clause usually comes first:

- Feeling tired, I went to bed early. (= because I felt tired)
- Being unemployed, she doesn't have much money. (= because she is unemployed)
- Not having a car, she finds it difficult to get around. (= because she doesn't have a car)
- Having already seen the film twice, I didn't want to go to the movies. (= because I had already seen it twice)

These structures are used more in written than in spoken English.

UNIT 65

Uncountable nouns (gold, music, advice, etc.)

Nouns can be countable or uncountable. For countable nouns see Unit 66.

a Uncountable nouns are, for example: gold music blood excitement

Uncountable nouns are things we cannot count. They have no plural. You cannot say “musics,” “bloods,” or “excitements.”

b Before uncountable nouns you can say the/some/any/much/this/his, etc.:

the music some gold much excitement his blood

But you cannot use a/an before an uncountable noun. So you cannot say “a music,” “an excitement,” or “a blood.”

You can also use uncountable nouns alone, with no article (see Unit 70):

■ This ring is made of gold. ■ Blood is red.

c Many nouns can be used as countable or as uncountable nouns. Usually there is a difference in meaning. For example:

paper I bought a paper. (= a newspaper – countable)

I bought some paper. (= material for writing on – uncountable) hair There's a hair in my soup! (= one single hair – countable)

She has beautiful hair. (= hair on her head – uncountable) experience We had many interesting experiences on our vacation. (= things that happened to us – countable)

You need experience for this job. (= knowledge of something because you have done it before – uncountable)

d Some nouns are usually uncountable in English but often countable in other languages. Here are the most important of these:

advice	bread	information	permission	traffic	weather
baggage	chaos	luggage	progress	travel	work
behavior	furniture	news	scenery	trouble

These nouns are uncountable, so (i) you cannot use a/an before them; and (ii) they cannot be plural:

- Tom gave me some good advice. (not some good advices)
- Where are you going to put all your furniture? (not furnitures)
- We don't have much luggage to carry. (not many luggages)
- I'm afraid I have some bad news. (not a bad news)

Remember that news is not plural:

- The news is very depressing today. (not The news are . . .)

Do not use travel to mean trip/journey:

- We had a good trip. (not a good travel)

Note these pairs of countable (C) and uncountable (UNC) nouns:

- I'm looking for a job. (C) but I'm looking for work. (UNC)
- What a beautiful view! (C) but What beautiful scenery! (UNC)

UNIT 66

Countable nouns with a/an and some

Nouns can be countable or uncountable. For uncountable nouns see Unit 65.

a Countable nouns are, for example:
dog umbrella job suggestion girl

Countable nouns are things we can count. We can make them plural:
two dogs six jobs some girls many suggestions

b Before singular countable nouns you can use a/an:
 ■ That's a good suggestion. ■ Do you need an umbrella?
 You cannot use singular countable nouns alone (without a/the/my, etc.):
 ■ I'm looking for a job. (not I'm looking for job)
 ■ Be careful of the dog. (not Be careful of dog)
 ■ I've got a headache. ■ Would you like a cigarette?

For a/an and the see Unit 67.

c We often use a/an + noun when we say what something/someone is, or what something/someone is like:

- A dog is an animal.
- Sue is a very nice person.
- This is a really beautiful house.
- Jack has a big nose.
- What a nice dress!

Remember to use a/an for jobs:

- Tom's mother is a doctor. (not Tom's mother is doctor)
- I wouldn't like to be an English teacher.

In sentences like these, we use plural countable nouns alone (not with some):

- Tom's parents are very nice people.
- What awful shoes!
- Ann has blue eyes.
- Dogs are animals.
- Are most of your friends students?

d We also use some with plural countable nouns. Some = a number of / a few of (but we don't know or say exactly how many):

- I've seen some good movies lately.
- Some friends of mine are coming to stay for the weekend.

Do not use some when you are talking about things in general:

- I love bananas. (not some bananas)

Sometimes you can use some or leave it out:

- There are (some) eggs in the refrigerator if you're hungry.

For some and any see Unit 80.

e You have to use some when you mean some, but not all / not many, etc.
 ■ Some children learn very quickly. (but not all children)
 ■ Some police officers in Britain carry guns, but most of them don't.

For plural countable nouns see also Unit 70.

UNIT 67

A/an and the

a Study this example:

For lunch I had a sandwich and an apple. The sandwich wasn't very good.

The speaker says "a sandwich / an apple" because this is the first time he talks about them.

The speaker says "the sandwich" because the listener now knows which sandwich he means – the sandwich he had for lunch.

Here are some more examples:

- There was a man talking to a woman outside my house. The man looked American, and I think the woman was Indian.
- When we were on vacation, we stayed at a hotel. In the evenings, sometimes we had dinner at the hotel and sometimes in a restaurant.
- I saw a movie last night. The movie was about a soldier and a beautiful woman. The soldier was in love with the woman, but the woman was in love with a teacher. So the soldier shot the teacher and married the woman.

b We use a/an when the listener doesn't know which thing we mean. We use the when it is clear which thing we mean:

- Tom sat down on a chair. (we don't know which chair)
Tom sat down on the chair nearest the door. (we know which chair)
- Ann is looking for a job. (not a particular job)
Did Ann get the job she applied for? (a particular job)
- Do you have a car? (not a particular car)
I cleaned the car yesterday. (a particular car, my car)

c We use the when it is clear in the situation which thing or person we mean. For example, in a room we talk about "the light / the floor / the ceiling / the door / the carpet," etc. Study these examples:

- Can you turn off the light, please? (= the light in this room)
- Where is the bathroom, please? (= the bathroom in this building/house)
- I enjoyed the movie. Who was the director? (= the director of the movie)
- I took a taxi to the station. (= the station of that town)
- We got to the airport just in time for our flight.

Also: the police / the fire department / the army.

We also say the bank, the post office:

- I have to go to the bank to change some money, and then I'm going to the post office to buy some stamps. (The speaker is usually thinking of a particular bank or post office.)

We also say the doctor, the dentist, the hospital:

- John wasn't feeling very well. He went to the doctor. (= his doctor)
- Two people were taken to the hospital after the accident.

For the see also Units 68–73.

For the difference between the and a/an see Unit 67.

- a We say the . . . when there is only one of something:
- What is the longest river in the world? (There is only one longest river in the world.)
 - We went to the most expensive restaurant in town.
 - The only television program she watches is the news.
 - Paris is the capital of France.
 - Everybody left at the end of the meeting.
 - The earth goes around the sun. (also: the moon / the world / the universe)

- b We say: the sea the sky the ground the city / the country
- Would you rather live in the city or in the country?
 - Don't sit on the ground! It's wet.
 - We looked up at all the stars in the sky.

We say go to sea / be at sea (without the) when the meaning is go/be on a voyage:

- Ken is a seaman. He spends most of his life at sea.

but: I would love to live near the sea. (not near sea)

We say space (not the space) when we mean space in the universe:

- There are millions of stars in space. (not in the space)

but: He tried to park his car, but the space wasn't big enough.

- c Movies theater radio television

We say the movies / the theater:

- We went to the movies last night.
- Do you often go to the theater?

Note that when we say the theater, we do not necessarily mean one particular theater.

We usually say the radio:

- We often listen to the radio.
- I heard the news on the radio.

But we usually say television (without the):

- We often watch television.
- I watched the news on television.

but: Can you turn off the television, please? (= the television set)

- d Meals: We do not normally use the with the names of meals:

- What time is lunch?
- We had dinner in a restaurant.
- What did you have for breakfast?
- Ann invited me to (or for) dinner.

But we say a meal:

- We had a meal in a restaurant.

We also say a when there is an adjective before lunch/breakfast, etc.

- Thank you. That was a very nice lunch. (not that was very nice lunch)

For more information about the see Units 67 and 69–73.

UNIT 69

The (2)

a Study these sentences:

- The rose is my favorite flower.
- The giraffe is the tallest of all animals.

In these examples the . . . doesn't mean one particular thing. The rose = roses in general, the giraffe = giraffes in general. We use the + a singular countable noun in this way to talk about a type of plant, animal, etc. Note that you can also use a plural noun without the:

- Roses are my favorite flowers. (but not The roses . . . – see Unit 70)

We also use the + a singular countable noun when we talk about a type of machine, an invention, etc. For example:

- When was the telephone invented?
- The bicycle is an excellent means of transportation.

We also use the for musical instruments:

- Can you play the guitar? (not Can you play guitar?)
- The piano is my favorite instrument.

b The + adjective

We use the with some adjectives (without a noun). The meaning is always plural. For example, the rich = rich people in general:

- Do you think the rich should pay more taxes?

We use the especially with these adjectives:

the rich	the old	the blind	the sick	the disabled	the injured
the poor	the young	the deaf	the dead	the unemployed	the homeless

- That man over there is collecting money for the homeless.
- Why doesn't the government do more to help the unemployed?

These expressions are always plural. You cannot say "a blind" or "an unemployed." You have to say "a blind man," "an unemployed woman," etc.

c The + nationality words

You can use the with some nationality adjectives when you mean "the people of that country." For example:

- The French are famous for their food. (= the French people)
- The English are known for being polite. (= the English people)

You can use the in this way with these nationality words:

the British	the Welsh	the Spanish	the Dutch
the English	the Irish	the French	the Swiss

You can also use the with nationality words ending in -ese (the Japanese / the Chinese, etc.).

With other nationalities you have to use a plural noun ending in -s:

(the) Russians (the) Italians (the) Arabs (the) Germans (the) Turks

For the see also Units 67, 68, and 70–73.

UNIT 70

Plural and uncountable nouns with and without the (flowers/the flowers)

a We don't use the before a noun when we mean something in general:

- I love flowers. (not the flowers)
(flowers = flowers in general, not a particular group of flowers)
- I'm afraid of dogs.
- Doctors are paid more than teachers.
- Crime is a problem in most big cities. (not the crime)
- Life has changed a lot since I was young. (not the life)
- I prefer classical music to pop music. (not the classical/pop music)
- Do you like Chinese food / American television? (not the . . .)
- My favorite subject at school was history/physics/English.
- I like soccer/athletics/skiing/chess.
- Do you collect stamps?

We say most people / most dogs, etc. (not the most . . .):

- Most people like George. (not the most people – see also Unit 78)

b We say the . . . when we mean something in particular:

- I like your garden. The flowers are beautiful. (not Flowers are . . .) (the flowers = the flowers in your garden, not flowers in general)
- Children learn a lot from playing. (= children in general)
- but:* We took the children to the zoo. (= a particular group of children, perhaps the speaker's own children)
- Salt is used to flavor food.
- but:* Can you pass the salt, please? (= the salt on the table)
- I often listen to music.
- but:* The movie wasn't very good, but I liked the music. (= the music in the movie)
- All cars have wheels.
- but:* All the students in the class like their teacher.
- Are American people friendly? (= American people in general)
- but:* Are the American people you know friendly? (= only the American people you know, not American people in general)

c The difference between “something in general” and “something in particular” is not always very clear. Study these sentences:

- I like working with people. (= people in general)
- I like working with people who are lively. (not all people, but people who are lively is still a general idea)
- but:* I like the people I work with. (= a particular group of people)
- Do you like coffee? (= coffee in general)
- Do you like strong black coffee? (not all coffee, but strong black coffee is still a general idea)
- but:* Did you like the coffee we had after dinner? (= particular coffee)

UNIT 71

School / the school, prison / the prison, etc.

- a School college prison/jail church
Compare these examples:

We say:

- a child goes to school (as a student)
- a student goes to college (to study)
- a criminal goes to prison or to jail (as a prisoner)
- someone goes to church (for a religious service)

We do not use the when we are thinking of the idea of these places and what they are used for:

- Mr. Kelly goes to church every Sunday. (not to the church)
- After I finish high school, I want to go to college.
- Ken's brother was sent to prison for robbing a bank.

We say: "be in or at school/college" (but "be in high school") and "be in prison/jail":

- What did you learn at (or in) school today?
- Ken's brother is in jail. (or in prison)

Now study these examples with the:

- Mrs. Kelly went to the school to meet her son's teachers. (she went there as a visitor, not as a pupil)
- Ken went to the prison to visit his brother. (as a visitor, not as a prisoner; he went to the jail where his brother was)
- The workers went to the church to repair the roof. (they didn't go to a religious service)

- b bed work home

We say:

"go to bed / be in bed" (not the bed):

- It's time to go to bed now.
- Is Tom still in bed?

"go to work / be at work / start work / finish work," etc. (not the work):

- Why isn't Ann at work today?
- What time do you finish work?

"go home / come home / get home / arrive home" (no preposition):

- Come on! Let's go home.
- What time did you get home?

"be (at) home / stay (at) home":

- Will you be (at) home tomorrow?
- We stayed (at) home.

UNIT 72

Geographical names with and without the a Continents: We do not say the with the names of continents: Africa (not the Africa) Asia Europe South America

b Countries and states: We do not usually say the with the names of countries and states:
France (not the France) Japan Germany Nigeria Texas

But we say the with names that include words like “republic,” “kingdom,” “states”:

the Dominican Republic	the Republic of Ireland	the United States (of America)
the People’s Republic of China	the United Kingdom
	the United Arab Emirates

We also use the with plural names:

the Netherlands the Philippines

c Cities: We do not use the with the names of cities/towns/villages:
Cairo (not the Cairo) New York Madrid Tokyo
Exception: The Hague (in the Netherlands)

d Islands: Island groups usually have plural names with the:
the Bahamas the Canaries/the Canary Islands the British Isles the Virgin Islands Individual islands usually have singular names without the:
Corfu Sicily Bermuda Easter Island

e Regions: We say:
the Middle East the Far East
the north of France the south of Spain the west of Canada (but: northern France / southern Spain / western Canada – without the) f Mountains: Mountain ranges usually have plural names with the:

the Rocky Mountains / the Rockies the Andes the Alps
But individual mountains usually have names without the:
(Mount) Everest (Mount) Fuji (Mount) Etna

g Lakes: Lakes usually have names without the:
Lake Superior Lake Victoria

h Names of oceans/seas/rivers/canals have the:
the Atlantic (Ocean) the Indian Ocean the Mediterranean (Sea) the Red Sea
the (English) Channel the Nile the Amazon the Mississippi
the Rhine the Suez Canal the Panama Canal

Note: On maps the is not usually included in the name.

Place names with of usually have the:

the Bay of Naples	the United States of America
the Sea of Japan	the Gulf of Mexico

UNIT 73

Names of streets, buildings, etc. with and without the a We do not normally use the with names of streets, roads, avenues, boulevards, squares, etc.:

Bloor Street	Fifth Avenue	Piccadilly Circus
Wilshire Boulevard	Broadway	Red Square

b Many names (for example, of airports or universities) are two or three words:

Kennedy Airport Boston University

The first word is usually the name of a person (“Kennedy”) or a place (“Boston”). We do not usually say the with names like these:

Pearson International Airport	Buckingham Palace
Penn Station	Hyde Park

But we say “the White House,” “the Royal Palace” because “white” and “royal” are not names. This is only a general rule. There are exceptions. See section (c) for hotels, etc., and section (e) for names with of.

c We usually say the before the names of these places:

hotels	the Hilton Hotel, the Sheraton (Hotel)
restaurants	the Bombay Restaurant, the Stage Delicatessen
theaters	the Shubert (Theater), the National Theater
movie theaters	the RKO Plaza, the Quad
museums/galleries	the Metropolitan Museum, the National Gallery, the Louvre
buildings/monuments	the Empire State Building, the Washington Monument

But banks do not usually take the:

First Interstate Bank Citibank Lloyds Bank

d Many stores and restaurants are named after the people who started them. These names end in s or 's. We do not use the with these names:

- “Where did you buy that hat?” “At Macy’s.” (not the Macy’s)
- We’re going to have lunch at Mama Leone’s. (not the Mama Leone’s)

Churches are sometimes named after saints (St. = Saint):

St. John’s Church St. Patrick’s Cathedral

e We say the before the names of places, buildings, etc., with of:

the Tower of London	the Museum of Modern Art
the Great Wall of China	the University of Southern California

UNIT 74

Singular or plural?

a We use some nouns only in the plural. For example:

You can also use a pair of . . . with these words:

- I need some new slacks. or I need a new pair of slacks.

b We do not often use the plural of person (“persons”). Instead we use people:

- He is a nice person. They are nice people. (not nice persons)

c These nouns end in -s but they are not usually plural:

mathematics physics economics athletics gymnastics news

- Gymnastics is my favorite sport.
- What time is the news on television? (See also Unit 65d.)

These words end in -s and can be singular or plural:

means	a means of transportation	many means of transportation series	a television series	two television series species	a species of bird	200 species of bird

d We always use a plural verb with the police:

- The police have arrested Tom.
- Are the police paid well?

e Sometimes we use a plural noun with a singular verb. We do this when we talk about a sum of money, a period of time, a distance, etc.:

- Five thousand dollars (= it) was stolen in the robbery. (not were stolen)
- Three years (= it) is a long time to be without a job. (not are)

f We say “a vacation of three weeks” but “a three-week vacation”:

- I have a three-week vacation in July. (not a three-weeks vacation)

Here, three-week is used as an adjective before “vacation.” When we use “three-weeks” as an adjective, it loses the s. So we say:

a ten-dollar bill (not dollars)	two 14-year-old girls
a four-week English course	a six-hour journey

You can also say “I have three weeks’ vacation.” See Unit 75d.

UNIT 75

...’s (apostrophe s) and ... of ...

a We normally use ’s when the first noun is a person or an animal:

the manager’s office (not the office of the manager)

Mr. Evans’s daughter the horse’s tail a police officer’s hat

Otherwise (with things) we normally use ... of ...

the door of the room (not the room’s door)

the beginning of the story (not the story’s beginning)

Sometimes you can use ’s when the first noun is a thing. For example, you can say:

the book’s title or the title of the book

But it is safer and more usual to use ... of ... (but see also section b).

b You can usually use ’s when the first noun is an organization (= a group of people). So you can say:

the government’s decision or the decision of the government

the company’s success or the success of the company

It is also possible to use ’s with places. So you can say:

the city’s new theater

the world’s population

France’s system of government

Italy’s largest city

c After a singular noun we use ’s. After a plural noun (which ends in -s) we use only an apostrophe (’):

my sister’s room (one sister)

Mr. Carter’s house

my sisters’ room (more than one sister)

the Carters’ house (Mr. and Mrs. Carter)

If a plural noun does not end in -s, we use ’s:

a children’s book

Note that you can use ’s after more than one noun:

Jack and Jill’s wedding Mr. and Mrs. Carter’s house

But we would not use ’s in a sentence like this:

- I met the wife of the man who lent us the money. (“the man who lent us the money” is too long to be followed by ’s)

Note that you can use ’s without a following noun:

- Tom’s apartment is much larger than Ann’s. (= Ann’s apartment)

d You can also use ’s with time words (tomorrow, etc.):

- Tomorrow’s meeting has been canceled.
- Do you still have last Saturday’s newspaper?

You can also say: yesterday’s ... today’s ... this evening’s ... next week’s ...

Monday’s ... etc.

We also use ’s (or only an apostrophe (’) with plurals) with periods of time:

- I have a week’s vacation.
- I have three weeks’ vacation.
- I need eight hours’ sleep a night.
- My house is very near here – only about five minutes’ walk.

Compare this structure with “a three-week vacation” (Unit 74e).

UNIT 76

Reflexive pronouns (myself / yourself, etc.), by myself

a The reflexive pronouns are:

singular:	myself	yourself (one person)	himself/herself/itself/
plural:	ourselves	yourselves (more than one person)	themselves

We use a reflexive pronoun when the subject and object are the same:

- Tom cut himself while he was shaving. (not Tom cut him)
- The old lady sat in a corner talking to herself.
 - Don't get angry. Control yourself! (said to one person)
 - If you want more to eat, help yourselves. (said to more than one person)
 - The party was great. We enjoyed ourselves very much.

But we do not use "myself," etc., after bring/take something with . . .:

- I went out and took an umbrella with me. (not with myself)

b We do not use "myself," etc., after feel/relax/concentrate:

- I feel great after going for a swim. (not I feel myself great)
- Why don't you try and concentrate?
- It's good to relax.

We do not normally use "myself," etc., after wash/dress/shave:

- I got up, shaved, washed, and dressed. (not shaved myself, etc.)

But we say: I dried myself.

Note how we use meet:

- What time shall we meet? (not meet ourselves / meet us) c Study the difference between -selves and each other:

- Tom and Ann stood in front of the mirror and looked at themselves.
(= Tom and Ann looked at Tom and Ann) but: Tom looked at Ann and Ann looked at Tom. They looked at each other.

You can use one another instead of each other:

- Sue and Ann don't like each other (or one another).

d We also use myself, etc., in another way. For example:

- "Who fixed your bicycle for you?" "Nobody. I fixed it myself."

I fixed it myself = I fixed it, not anybody else. We use myself here to emphasize I. Here are some more examples:

- I'm not going to do it for you. You can do it yourself.
- Let's paint the house ourselves. It will be much cheaper.
- The movie itself wasn't very good, but I liked the music.
- I don't think Tom will get the job. Tom himself doesn't think he'll get it. (or Tom doesn't think he'll get it himself.)

e By myself/yourself, etc. = alone. We say:

- I like living by myself.
- Did you go on vacation by yourself?
- Jack was sitting by himself in a corner of the cafe.

UNIT 77

“A friend of mine,” “my own house”

a A friend of mine / a friend of Tom's

We say “a friend of mine/yours/his/hers/ours/theirs.” (not a friend of me/you/him, etc.):

- A friend of mine is coming to stay with me next week. (not a friend of me)
- We went on vacation with some friends of ours. (not some friends of us)
- Tom had an argument with a neighbor of his.
- It was a good suggestion of yours to go swimming this afternoon.

We also say “a friend of Tom's,” “a friend of my brother's,” etc.:

- That man over there is a friend of my brother's.
- It was a good idea of Tom's to go swimming.

b My own... / your own..., etc.

You cannot say “an own...” (“an own house,” “an own car,” etc.)

You must use my/your/his/her/its/our/their before own:

my own house your own car her own room

My own... = something that is only mine, not shared or borrowed:

- The Browns live in an apartment, but they'd like to have their own house. (not an own house)
- I don't want to share with anyone. I want my own room.
- Unfortunately the apartment doesn't have its own entrance.
- It's my own fault that I don't have any money. I spend it too quickly.
- Why do you want to borrow my car? Why can't you use your own (car)?

You can also use ... own ... to say that you do something yourself instead of somebody else doing it for you. For example:

- Do you grow your own vegetables? (= do you grow them yourself in your garden instead of buying them?)
- Ann always cuts her own hair. (= she cuts it herself; she doesn't go to the hairdresser)

UNIT 78

All / all of, no / none of, most / most of, etc.

a

all no/none some any much/many most little/few each half

You can use these words (except none and half) with a noun:

- All cars have wheels.
- I have no money.
- Some people are very unfriendly.
- Did you put any salt in the soup?
- Hurry! We have very little time.
- Study each sentence carefully.

Be careful with most:

- Most tourists do not visit this part of the town. (not most of tourists, not the most tourists)
- George is much richer than most people.

b

You can also use these words (except no) alone, without a noun:

- "I need some money. Do you have any?" "Yes, but not much."
- "How many cigarettes do you have?" "None."
- Most people like Tom, but some don't.

We usually say each one instead of each alone:

- There were three boxes on the table. Each one was a different color.

For all see Unit 83a.

c

You can also use these words (except no) with of So you can say some of the people, all of these cars, none of my money, etc.

When you use these words with of, you need the/this/that/these/those/my/your/his, etc. You cannot say "some of people," "all of cars." You must say: "some of the people," "all of these cars," etc.:

- Some of the people at the party were very friendly.
- Most of my friends live in Montreal.
- None of this money is mine.
- Each of the rooms in the hotel has its own bathroom.
- I haven't read many of these books.

With all and half we usually leave out of:

all my friends (= all of my friends) half the money (= half of the money) (not the half)

d

After all of / none of, etc., you can also use it/us/you/them:

- "How many of these people do you know?" "None of them."
- Do any of you want to come to a party tonight?
- "Do you like this music?" "Some of it. Not all of it."

You must say "all of" and "half of" before it/us/you/them:

all of us (not "all us") half of them (not "half them")

For no and none see Unit 81b.

For more information about the words in this unit see Units 79–83.

UNIT 79

Both / both of, neither / neither of, either / either of a We use both, neither, and either when we are talking about two things. You can use these words with a noun:

- Both restaurants are very good. (not the both restaurants)
- Neither restaurant is expensive.
- We can go to either restaurant. I don't care. (either = one or the other; it doesn't matter which one)
- I didn't like either restaurant. (not the one or the other)

b You can also use both/neither/either with of . . .. When you use these words with of, you always need the/these/those/my/your/his, etc. You cannot say, "both of restaurants." You have to say "both of the restaurants," "both of these restaurants," etc.:

- Both of these restaurants are very good.
- Neither of the restaurants we went to was (or were) expensive.
- We can go to either of those restaurants. I don't mind.

With both you can leave out of. So you can say:

both my parents or both of my parents

c After both of / neither of / either of you can also use us/you/them:

- Can either of you speak Spanish?
- I wanted Tom and Ann to come, but neither of them wanted to.

You must say: "both of" before us/you/them:

- Both of us were very tired. (not Both us . . .)

d After neither of . . . you can use a singular or a plural verb:

- Neither of the children wants (or want) to go to bed.
- Neither of us is (or are) married.

e You can say both . . . and . . ., neither . . . nor . . ., and either . . . or . . .. Study these examples:

- Both Tom and Ann were late.
- They were both tired and hungry.
- Neither Tom nor Ann came to the party.
- He said he would contact me, but he neither wrote nor called.
- I'm not sure where he is from. He's either Spanish or Italian.
- Either you apologize, or I'll never speak to you again.

f You can also use both/neither/either alone:

- "Is he British or American?" "Neither. He's Australian."
- "Do you want tea or coffee?" "Either. It doesn't matter."
- I couldn't decide which one to choose. I liked both.

For I don't either and neither do I see Unit 49c.

UNIT 80

Some and any

Some/any + -one/-body/-thing/-where a In general we use some in positive sentences and any in negative sentences (but see also sections b and d):

- Ann has bought some new shoes.
- They don't have any children.
- I've got something in my eye.
- He's lazy. He never does any work.

We use any in the following sentences because the meaning is negative:

- He left home without any money. (He didn't have any money.)
- She refused to say anything. (She didn't say anything.)

b We often use any/anyone/anything, etc., after if:

- If any letters arrive for me, can you send them to this address?
- If anyone has any questions, I'll be glad to answer them.
- If you need anything, just ask.
- Buy some pears if you see any.

The following sentences are without if, but they have the idea of if:

- Anyone who wants to take the exam must give me their names before Friday. (= if there is anyone who . . .)
- I'll send on any letters that arrive for you. (= if there are any)

c In questions we usually use any (not some):

- Do you have any money?
- Has anybody seen Tom?

But we often use some in questions when we expect the answer "yes":

- What's wrong with your eye? Have you got something in it? (= I think you have something in your eye, and I expect you to say "yes")

We use some in questions, especially when we offer or ask for things:

- Would you like some tea?
- Can I have some of those apples?

d Any also has another meaning. Any/anyone/anybody/anything/anywhere can mean it doesn't matter which/who/what/where:

- You can catch any of these buses. They all go downtown. (= it doesn't matter which of these buses)
- Come and see me any time you want. (= it doesn't matter when)
- You can have anything you want for your birthday present.
- We left the door unlocked. Anybody could have come in.
- I'd rather go anywhere than stay at home during my vacation.
- "Sing a song." "Which song shall I sing?" "Any song. I don't care."

e Someone/somebody/anyone/anybody are singular words:

- Someone wants to see you.
- Is anybody there?

But we often use they/them/their after these words:

- If anyone wants to leave early, they can. (= he or she can)
- Somebody has spilled their (= his or her) coffee on the carpet.

For some of / any of see Unit 78. For not . . . any see Unit 81.

UNIT 81

No/none/any

No/any + one/-body/-thing/-where a No none no one nobody nothing nowhere

We use these negative words especially at the beginning of a sentence or alone:

- No one (or Nobody) came to visit me when I was in the hospital.
- No system of government is perfect.
- "Where are you going?" "Nowhere. I'm staying here."
- None of these books are mine.
- "What did you do?" "Nothing."

You can also use these words in the middle or at the end of a sentence. But don't use "not" with these words. They are already negative:

- I saw nothing. (not I didn't see nothing.)

In the middle or at the end of a sentence, we more often use: not . . . any/anyone/anybody/anything/anywhere:

- I didn't see anything. (= I saw nothing.)
- We don't have any money. (= We have no money.)
- The station isn't anywhere near here. (= . . . is nowhere near here)
- She didn't tell anyone about her plans. (= She told no one)

Where there is another negative word, you don't need "not":

- Nobody tells me anything. (= People don't tell me anything.)

b No and none

We use no with a noun. No = not a or not any:

- We had to walk because there was no bus. (= there wasn't a bus)
- I can't talk to you now. I have no time. (= I don't have any time)
- There were no stores open. (= There weren't any stores open.)

We use none alone (without a noun):

- "How much money do you have?" "None."

Or we use none of:

none of these shops none of my money none of it/us/you/them

After none of + a plural word ("none of the girls / none of them," etc.), you can use a singular or a plural verb. A plural verb is more usual, especially in spoken English:

- None of the people I met were English.

c After no one/nobody we often say they/them/their:

- Nobody called, did they? (= did he or she)
- No one in the class did their homework. (= his or her homework)

d You can use any/no with comparative (any better / no bigger, etc.):

- Do you feel any better today? (= Do you feel better at all? – said to someone who felt sick yesterday)
- We've waited long enough. I'm not waiting any longer. (= not even a minute longer)
- I expected your house to be very big, but it's no bigger than mine. (= not even a little bigger)

For any see also Unit 80.

UNIT 82

Much, many, little, few, a lot, plenty a Much many few little

We use much and little with uncountable nouns:

much time much luck little energy little money

We use many and few with plural nouns:

many friends many people few cars few countries

b A lot (of) lots (of) plenty (of)

We use a lot of / lots of / plenty of with uncountable and plural nouns:

a lot of luck lots of time plenty of money a lot of people lots of books plenty of ideas

Plenty = more than enough:

- "Have some more to eat." "No, thank you. I've had plenty."
- There's no need to hurry. We have plenty of time.

c We use much and many mainly in negative sentences and questions:

- We didn't spend much money.
- Do you have many friends?

In positive sentences it is usually better to use a lot (of). Much is not normally used in positive sentences:

- We spent a lot of money. (not we spent much money)
- There has been a lot of rain recently. (not much rain)

But we use too much and so much in positive sentences:

- I can't drink this tea. There's too much sugar in it.

d Little / a little / few / a few

Little and few (without a) are negative ideas:

- Hurry up! There's little time. (= not much, not enough time)
- He's not popular. He has few friends. (= not many, not enough friends)

We often use very before little and few (very little and very few):

- There's very little time.
- He has very few friends.

"A little" and "a few" are more positive ideas. A little / a few = some, a small amount, or a small number:

- Let's go and have a cup of coffee. We have a little time before the train leaves. (= some time, enough time to have a drink)
- "Do you have any money?" "Yes, a little. Do you want to borrow some?"
- I enjoy my life here. I have a few friends and we get together. (a few friends = not many but enough to have a good time)
- "When did you last see Tom?" "A few days ago." (= some days ago)

But "only a little" and "only a few" have a negative meaning:

- Hurry up! We only have a little time.
- The town was very small. There were only a few houses.

a All everyone everybody everything

We do not normally use all to mean everyone/everybody:

- Everybody enjoyed the party. (not All enjoyed . . .)
- Ann knows everyone on her street. (not . . . all on her street)

Sometimes you can use all to mean everything, but it is usually better to say everything:

- He thinks he knows everything. (not knows all)
- It was a terrible vacation. Everything went wrong. (not all went wrong)

But you can use all in the expression all about:

- They told us all about their vacation.

We also use all to mean the only thing(s):

- All I've eaten today is a sandwich. (= the only thing I've eaten)

b We use a singular verb after every/everyone/everybody/everything:

- Every seat in the theater was taken.
- Everybody looks tired today.
- Everything she said was true.

But we often use they/them/their after everyone/everybody, especially in spoken English:

- Has everyone got their tickets? (= his or her ticket)
- Everybody said they would come. (= he or she would come)

c All and whole

We use whole mainly with singular nouns:

- Have you read the whole book? (= all the book, not just a part of it)
- He was very quiet. He didn't say a word the whole evening.
- She has spent her whole life in South America.

We say the/my/her, etc., before whole. Compare:

the whole book / all the book her whole life / all her life

You can also say "a whole . . .":

- Jack ate a whole loaf of bread yesterday. (= a complete loaf)

We do not normally use whole with uncountable nouns:

- all the money (not the whole money)

d Every/all/whole with time words

We use every to say how often something happens. So we say every day / every week / every Monday / every ten minutes / every three weeks, etc.:

- We go out every Friday night.
- The buses run every ten minutes.
- Ann goes to see her mother every three weeks.

All day / the whole day = the complete day:

- We spent all day / the whole day on the beach.
- I've been trying to find you all morning / the whole morning.

Note that we say all day / all week, etc. (not all the day / all the week)

For all see also Units 78 and 102c.

UNIT 84

Relative clauses (1) – clauses with who/that/which

a Study this example:

The man who lives next door is very friendly.
└ relative clause ┘

A clause is a part of a sentence. A relative clause tells us which person or thing (or what kind of person or thing) the speaker means:

- The man who lives next door . . . (who lives next door tells us which man)
- People who live in Paris . . . (who live in Paris tells us what kind of people)

We use who in a relative clause when we are talking about people. We use who instead of he/she/they:

the man – he lives next door – is very friendly
 → The man who lives next door is very friendly.
 we know a lot of people – they live in Boston
 → We know a lot of people who live in Boston.

- An architect is someone who designs buildings.
- What was the name of the man who lent you the money?
- The girl who was injured in the accident is now in the hospital.
- Anyone who wants to take the exam must sign up before next Friday.

It is also possible to use that instead of who:

- The man that lives next door is very friendly.

But sometimes you must use who for people – see Unit 87.

b When we are talking about things, we use that (not who) in a relative clause. We use that instead of it/they:

where are the eggs? – they were in the refrigerator
 Where are the eggs that were in the refrigerator?

- I don't like stories that have unhappy endings.
- Jerry works for a company that makes typewriters.
- Everything that happened was my fault.
- The window that was broken has now been repaired.

You can also use which for things (but not for people):

- Where are the eggs which were in the refrigerator?

That is more usual than which in the sentences in this unit. But sometimes you must use which – see Unit 87.

c Remember that we use who/that/which instead of he/she/they/it:

- Do you know the man who lives next door? (not . . . who he lives . . .)

Now study the next unit for more information about relative clauses.

UNIT 85

Relative clauses (2) – clauses with or without who/that a Look again at these examples from Unit 84:

- The man who lives next door is very friendly. (or that lives)
- Where are the eggs that were in the refrigerator? (or which were)

In these sentences who and that are subjects of the verbs in the relative clauses: the man lives next door, the eggs were in the refrigerator. You cannot leave out who or that in these sentences.

Sometimes who and that are objects of the verbs:

the man – I wanted to see him – was away on vacation
 → The man who (or that) I wanted to see was away on vacation.
 have you found the keys? – you lost them
 → Have you found the keys that you lost?

When who or that are objects of the verb in the relative clause, you can leave them out:

- The man I wanted to see was away on vacation. (but not The man I wanted to see him was away on vacation.)
- Have you found the keys you lost? (but not Have you found the keys you lost them?)
- The dress Ann bought doesn't fit her very well. (= the dress that Ann bought)
- The woman Jerry is going to marry is Mexican. (= the woman who/that Jerry is going to marry)
- Is there anything I can do? (= is there anything that I can do?)

b There are often prepositions (in/at/with, etc.) in relative clauses. Study the position of the prepositions in these sentences:

do you know the girl? – Tom is talking to her → Do you know the girl (who/that) Tom is talking to ? the bed – I slept in it last night – wasn't very comfortable
 → The bed (that) I slept in last night wasn't very comfortable.

- The man (who/that) I sat next to on the plane talked all the time.
- Are these the books (that) you have been looking for?
- The girl (who/that) he fell in love with left him after a few weeks.

c You cannot use what instead of that:

- Everything (that) he said was true. (not everything what he said)
- I gave her all the money (that) I had. (not all . . . what I had)

What = the thing(s) that:

- Did you hear what I said? (= the words that I said)
- I won't tell anyone what happened. (= the thing that happened)

UNIT 86

Relative clauses (3) – whose, whom, and where a Whose

We use whose in relative clauses instead of his/her/their:

we saw some people – their car had broken down
→ We saw some people whose car had broken down.

We use whose mostly for people:

- A widow is a woman whose husband is dead. (her husband is dead)
- What's the name of the girl whose car you borrowed? (you borrowed her car)
- The other day I met someone whose brother I went to school with. (I went to school with his brother)

b Whom

Whom is possible instead of who (for people) when it is the object of the verb in the relative clause (like the sentences in Unit 85):

- The man whom I wanted to see was away on vacation. (I wanted to see him)

You can also use whom with a preposition (to/from/with whom, etc.):

- The woman with whom he fell in love left him after a few weeks. (he fell in love with her)

But we do not often use whom. In spoken English we normally prefer who or that (or you can leave them out – see Unit 85):

- The man (who/that) I wanted to see . . .
- The woman (who/that) he fell in love with . . .

For whom see also Units 87 and 88.

c Where

You can use where in a relative clause to talk about places:

the hotel – we stayed there – wasn't very clean
→ The hotel where we stayed wasn't very clean.

- I recently went back to the town where I was born. (or the town (that) I was born in)
- I would like to live in a country where there is plenty of sunshine.

d

We use that (or we leave it out) when we say the day / the year / the time, (etc.) that something happened:

- Do you still remember the day (that) we first met?
- The last time (that) I saw her, she looked very well.
- I haven't seen them since the year (that) they got married.

e

You can say the reason why something happens or the reason that something happens. You can also leave out why and that:

- The reason (why/that) I'm calling you is to invite you to a party.

UNIT 87

Relative clauses (4) – “extra information” clauses (1) a Look again at these examples from Units 84 and 85:

- The man who lives next door is very friendly.
- Jerry works for a company that makes typewriters.
- Have you found the keys (that) you lost?

In these examples, the relative clauses tell us which person or thing (or what kind of person or thing) the speaker means:

“The man who lives next door” tells us which man.

“a company that makes typewriters” tells us what kind of company.

“the keys (that) you lost” tells us which keys.

But not all relative clauses are like this. For example:

- Tom’s father, who is 78, goes swimming every day.
- The house at the end of the street, which has been empty for two years, has just been sold.

In these examples the relative clauses (who is 78 and which has been empty for two years) do not tell us which person or thing the speaker means. We already know which person or thing is meant: “Tom’s father” and “the house at the end of the street.” The relative clauses in these sentences give us extra information about the person or thing.

b In these “extra information” relative clauses you have to use who for people and which for things. You cannot use that, and you cannot leave out who or which.

When you write clauses like this, you have to put commas (,) at the beginning and at the end of the clause. Study these examples:

- Mr. Yates, who has worked for the same company all his life, is retiring next month.
- The strike at the car factory, which lasted ten days, is now over.

When the clause comes at the end of the sentence, you have to put a comma before the clause:

- Yesterday I met John, who told me he was getting married.
- She told me her address, which I wrote down on a piece of paper.

Remember that we use who/which instead of he/she/it/they:

- Last night we went to Ann’s party, which we enjoyed very much. (not which we enjoyed it very much)

c You can also use whose, whom, and where in relative clauses with “extra information”:

- Martin, whose mother is Spanish, speaks both Spanish and English fluently.
- Mr. Hill is going to Canada, where his son has been living for five years.
- My sister, whom (or who) you once met, is visiting us next week.

For more information about whose, whom, and where see Unit 86.

See also the next unit for “extra information” relative clauses.

UNIT 88

Relative clauses (5) – “extra information” clauses (2)

You should study Unit 87 before you study this unit.

a Prepositions + whom/which

In “extra information” clauses you can use a preposition before whom (for people) and which (for things). So you can say “to whom / with whom / about which / for which,” etc.:

- Mr. Carter, to whom I spoke last night, is very interested in our plan.
- Fortunately we had a map, without which we would have gotten lost.

But in spoken English we often keep the preposition after the verb in the relative clause.

When we do this, we normally use who (not whom):

- This is Mr. Carter, who I was telling you about.
- Yesterday we visited the National Museum, which I’d never been to before.

b All of/most of, etc. + whom/which Study these examples:

- Jack has three brothers. All of them are married. (2 sentences)
 → Jack has three brothers, all of whom are married. (1 sentence)
- Ann has a lot of books. She hasn’t read most of them. (2 sentences)
 → Ann has a lot of books, most of which she hasn’t read. (1 sentence)

You can also say:

none of/many of/much of/(a) few of/some of any of/half of/each of/both of/neither of either of/one of/two of, etc.	}	+ whom (people) + which (things)
--	---	--

- He tried on three jackets, none of which fit him.
- They’ve got three cars, two of which they never use.
- Sue has a lot of friends, many of whom she went to school with.
- Two men, neither of whom I had seen before, came into my office.

c Which (not what) Study this example:

Jim passed his driving test. This surprised everybody. (2 sentences)

Jim passed his driving test, which surprised everybody. (1 sentence)
 relative clause

In this example which = the fact that he passed his driving test. You cannot use what instead of which in sentences like this:

- She couldn’t come to the party, which was a pity. (not . . . what was a pity)
- The weather was very good, which we hadn’t expected. (not . . . what we hadn’t expected)

For what see Unit 85c.

UNIT 89

-ing and -ed clauses ("the woman talking to Tom," "the man injured in the accident") a A clause is a part of a sentence. Some clauses begin with -ing or -ed:

- Do you know the woman talking to Tom? (-ing clause)
- The man injured in the accident was taken to the hospital. (-ed clause)

b We use -ing clauses to say what someone (or something) is doing or was doing at a particular time:

- Do you know the woman talking to Tom? (the woman is talking to Tom)
- The police officers investigating the robbery are looking for three men. (the police officers are investigating the robbery)
- I was awakened by a bell ringing. (the bell was ringing)
- Who was that man standing outside? (the man was standing outside)
- Can you hear someone singing? (someone is singing)

For see/hear someone doing something see Unit 63.

When you are talking about things (and sometimes people), you can use an -ing clause for permanent characteristics (what something does all the time, not just at a particular time):

- The road joining the two villages is very narrow. (the road joins the two villages)
- I live in a pleasant room overlooking the garden. (the room overlooks the garden)

c -ed clauses have a passive meaning:

- The man injured in the accident was taken to the hospital. (the man was injured in the accident)
- None of the people invited to the party can come. (the people have been invited to the party)

Injured and invited are past participles. Many verbs have irregular past participles that do not end in -ed. For example: stolen/made/bought/written, etc.:

- The money stolen in the robbery was never found. (the money was stolen in the robbery)
- Most of the goods made in this factory are exported. (the goods are made in this factory)

For a full list of irregular verbs see Appendix 2.

d We often use -ing and -ed clauses after there is / there was, etc.:

- Is there anybody waiting to see me?
- There were some children swimming in the river.
- When I arrived, there was a big red car parked outside the house.

For more information about -ing clauses see Unit 64.

UNIT 90

Adjectives ending in -ing and -ed (boring/bored, etc.)

- a There are many pairs of adjectives ending in -ing and -ed. For example: boring and bored. Study this example situation:

Jane has been doing the same job for a very long time. Every day she does exactly the same thing over and over. She doesn't enjoy it any more and would like to do something different.

Jane's job is boring.
Jane is bored (with her job).

Someone is -ed if something (or someone) is -ing. Or, if something is -ing, it makes you -ed. So:

- Jane is bored because her job is boring.
- Jane's job is boring, so Jane is bored. (not Jane is boring)

Now study these examples:

Someone is interested because something (or someone) is interesting:

- Tom is interested in politics. (not interesting in politics)
- Tom finds politics interesting.
- Are you interested in buying a car?
- Did you meet anyone interesting at the party?

Someone is surprised because something is surprising:

- Everyone was surprised that she passed the exam.
- It was surprising that she passed the exam.

Someone is disappointed because something is disappointing:

- I was disappointed with the movie. I expected it to be much better.
- The movie was disappointing. I expected it to be much better.

Someone is tired because something is tiring:

- He is always very tired when he gets home from work.
- He has a very tiring job.

- b Other pairs of adjectives ending in -ing and -ed are:

fascinating	fascinated	horrifying	horrified exciting	excited	terrifying	terrified
amusing	amused	frightening	frightened amazing	amazed	depressing	depressed astonishing	astonished	worrying	worried shocking	shocked	annoying	annoyed
disgusting	disgusted	exhausting	exhausted
embarrassing	embarrassed	satisfying	satisfied confusing	confused

UNIT 91

Adjectives: Word order ("a nice new house") After verbs ("Do you feel tired?") a Sometimes we use two or more adjectives together:

- Tom lives in a nice new house.
- In the kitchen there was a beautiful large round wooden table.

Adjectives like new/large/round/wooden are fact adjectives. They give us objective information about something (age, size, color, etc.). Adjectives like nice/beautiful are opinion adjectives. They tell us what someone thinks of something.

Opinion adjectives usually go before fact adjectives:

	opinion	fact
a	nice	sunny	day
	delicious	hot	soup
an	intelligent	young	man
a	beautiful	large round wooden	table

b Sometimes there are two or more fact adjectives. Very often (but not always) we put fact adjectives in this order:

a tall young man (1→2)

big blue eyes (1→3)

a small black plastic bag (1→3→5)

a large wooden table (1→5)

an old Russian song (2→4)

an old white cotton shirt (2→3→5)

Adjectives of size and length (big/small/tall/short/long, etc.) usually go before adjectives of shape and width (round/fat/thin/slim/wide, etc.):

a large round table a tall thin woman a long narrow street

c We also use adjectives after some verbs, especially be/get/become:

Are you tired? Be careful! I'm getting hungry.

We also use adjectives after: feel smell taste sound seem look:

- Do you feel tired?
- Dinner smells good.
- This coffee tastes strong.
- Tom sounded angry when I spoke to him on the phone.
- Your friend seems very nice.

But after other verbs you must use an adverb (see also Units 92 and 93):

- Drive carefully! (not drive careful!)
- Susan plays the piano very well. (not plays . . . very good)
- Tom shouted at me angrily. (not shouted . . . angry)

Look We use an adjective after look when it means seem:

- Tom looked sad when I saw him.

But after look at we use an adverb:

- Tom looked at me sadly. (not looked at me sad)

UNIT 92

Adjectives and adverbs (1) (quick/quickly)

a Study these examples:

- Our vacation was too short – the time went quickly.
- The driver of the car was seriously injured in the accident.

Quickly and seriously are adverbs. Many adverbs are made from an adjective + -ly:

adjective:	quick	serious	careful	quiet	heavy	bad
adverb:	quickly	seriously	carefully	quietly	heavily	badly

For spelling rules see Appendix 3. For hard/fast/well see Unit 93.

Not all words ending in -ly are adverbs. Some adjectives end in -ly too. For example:
friendly lively elderly lonely silly lovely b Adjective or adverb?

An adjective tells us more about a noun. We use adjectives before nouns and after a few verbs (especially be):

- Tom is a careful driver.
- Be quiet, please!
- We didn't go out because of the heavy rain.
- I was disappointed that my exam results were so bad.

For adjectives after look/smell/feel, etc., see Unit 91c.

An adverb tells us more about a verb. An adverb tells us in what way someone does something or in what way something happens:

- Tom drove carefully along the narrow road. (not drove careful)
- Speak quietly, please! (not speak quiet)
- We didn't go out because it was raining heavily. (not raining heavy)
- I was disappointed that I did so badly on the exam. (not did so bad)

Compare: She speaks perfect English. (adjective + noun)

She speaks English perfectly. (verb + object + adverb)

c We also use adverbs before adjectives and other adverbs. For example:

reasonably cheap	(adverb + adjective) terribly sorry	(adverb + adjective) incredibly quickly	(adverb + adverb)

- It's a reasonably cheap restaurant and the food is extremely good.
- Oh, I'm terribly sorry. I didn't mean to push you.
- Maria learns languages incredibly quickly.
- I was bitterly disappointed that I didn't get the job.
- The examination was surprisingly easy.

You can use an adverb before a past participle (injured/organized, etc.):

- The meeting was very badly organized.
- The driver of the car was seriously injured in the accident.
- The building was totally destroyed in the fire.

93

Adjectives and adverbs (2)

(good/well, fast/hard/late, hardly) a Good/well Good is an adjective. The adverb is well:

- Your English is very good. You speak English well.
- Susan is a good pianist. She plays the piano well.

We often use well with past participles (dressed/known, etc.):

well dressed (not good dressed) well known well educated

But well is also an adjective with the meaning "in good health":

- "How are you today?" "I'm very well, thanks." (not I'm very good)

b Fast/hard/late These words are both adjectives and adverbs:

adjective

Jack is a very fast runner.

Ann is a hard worker.

The train was late.

adverb

Jack can run very fast.

Ann works hard. (not works hardly)

I got up late this morning.

The adverb lately = recently:

- Have you seen Tom lately?

c Hardly has a completely different meaning from hard:

Hardly = almost not. Study these examples:

- George asked Carol to marry him. She was surprised because they had only known each other for two days. She said: "We can't get married now! We hardly know each other." (= we know each other very little; we almost don't know each other)
- Why was Tom so unfriendly at the party last night? He hardly spoke to me. (= he spoke to me very little)

We often use hardly with can/could:

- Your writing is terrible. I can hardly read it. (= I can read it but only with a lot of difficulty)
- My leg was hurting me. I could hardly walk.

We also use hardly with any/anyone/anything/anywhere:

- "How much money do you have?" "Hardly any." (= almost none; very little)
- The exam results were very bad. Hardly anyone passed. (= almost no one passed; very few people passed)
- She ate hardly anything because she didn't feel hungry. (= she ate almost nothing; she ate very little)

Note that you can say:

- She ate hardly anything. or She hardly ate anything.
- We have hardly any food. or We hardly have any food.
- We've done hardly any work. or We've hardly done any work.

Hardly ever = almost never:

- I'm nearly always at home in the evenings. I hardly ever go out.

UNIT 94

So and such

a Study these examples:

- I didn't enjoy the book. The story was so stupid.
- I didn't enjoy the book. It was such a stupid story.

We use so with an adjective without a noun: so stupid
 We use such with an adjective with a noun: such a stupid story

You can also use so with an adverb:

- He's difficult to understand because he speaks so quickly.

b So and such make the meaning of the adjective stronger:

- It's a beautiful day, isn't it? It's so warm. (= really warm)
- We enjoyed our vacation. We had such a good time. (= a really good time)

Compare so and such in these sentences:

- I like Tom and Ann. They are so nice.
- I like Tom and Ann. They are such nice people. (not so nice people)

We often say so . . . that . . . and such . . . that . . .:

- I was so tired that I went to bed at seven o'clock.
- She worked so hard that she made herself sick.
- It was such beautiful weather that we spent the whole day in the park.
- The book was so good that I couldn't put it down.
 It was such a good book that I couldn't put it down.

You can leave out that in these sentences:

- I was so tired (that) I went to bed at 7 o'clock.

c In these sentences we use so and such in a different way:

- I expected the weather to be much cooler. I didn't expect it to be so warm. (= as warm as it is)
- I'm tired because I got up at 6 o'clock. I don't usually get up so early. (= as early as 6 o'clock)
- Hurry up! Don't walk so slowly. (= as slowly as you are walking)
- I was surprised when Jack told me the house was built 100 years ago. { I didn't realize it was so old. (= as old as it is)
 I didn't realize it was such an old house.

d We say: so long but "such a long time"; so far but "such a long way"; so many, so much but "such a lot (of)":

- I haven't seen him for so long that I've forgotten what he looks like. (or . . . for such a long time . . .)
- I didn't know you lived so far from the city. (or . . . such a long way from . . .)
- Why did you buy so much food? (or . . . such a lot of food?)

a The position of enough:

Enough goes after adjectives and adverbs:

- He didn't get the job because he wasn't experienced enough. (not enough experienced)
- You won't pass the exam if you don't work hard enough.
- She can't get married yet. She's not old enough.

Enough goes before nouns:

- He didn't get the job because he didn't have enough experience. (not experience enough)
- I'd like to take a vacation, but I don't have enough money.
- Some of us had to sit on the floor because there weren't enough chairs.

You can also use enough alone (without a noun):

- I'll lend you some money if you don't have enough.

b After enough and too you can say for someone/something:

- I don't have enough money for a vacation.
- He wasn't experienced enough for the job.
- This shirt is too big for me. I need a smaller size.

But we do not usually say "enough/too . . . for doing something." We use the infinitive after enough and too. So we say "enough money to do something," "old enough to do something," "too young to do something," etc.:

- I don't have enough money to take a vacation. (not for taking)
- He wasn't experienced enough to do the job.
- She's only sixteen. She's not old enough to get married. (or She's too young to get married.)
- Let's take a taxi. It's too far to walk.
- There weren't enough chairs for everyone to sit down.
- The weather wasn't nice enough to go swimming.
- She spoke too quickly for us to understand.

c We say:

- The food was so hot that we couldn't eat it.

and: The food was very hot. We couldn't eat it.

or we say:

- The food was too hot to eat. (without "it")

Here are some more examples like this:

- That picture is too heavy to hang on the wall.
- I had to carry my wallet in my hand. It was too big to put in my pocket.
- The water wasn't clean enough to swim in.

UNIT 96

The infinitive after adjectives

a Compare these two sentences:

Jim doesn't speak very clearly. { A It is difficult to understand him.
B He is difficult to understand.

Sentences A and B have the same meaning. But note that we say "He is difficult to understand." (not He is difficult to understand him.)

You can use the structure in sentence B after difficult/easy/impossible/hard and after a few other adjectives:

- Your writing is almost impossible to read. (not . . . to read it)
(= It is almost impossible to read your writing.)
- Do you think this water is safe to drink? (not . . . to drink it)
- Jill is very interesting to talk to. (not . . . to talk to her)

You can also use this structure with an adjective + noun:

- This is a very difficult question to answer. (not . . . to answer it)
- Jill is an interesting person to talk to.
- I enjoyed the soccer game. It was an exciting game to watch.

b We use the infinitive after the first / the second / the third, etc., and also after the next and the last:

- Who was the first person to reach the South Pole?
- If I have any more news, you'll be the first to know.
- The next plane to arrive at gate 4 will be Flight 61 from Buenos Aires.
- Who was the last person to leave the building last night?

c You can use the infinitive after a number of adjectives to say how someone feels about something. For example:

- I was sorry to hear that your father is ill.
- Was Tom surprised to see you when you visited him?
- I was delighted to get your letter last week.

Other adjectives you can use in this way include:

happy	pleased	disappointed	amazed glad	sad	relieved	astonished

d Note the structure (it is) nice of someone to do something. This structure is possible after a number of adjectives, including:

nice	mean	silly	polite	generous kind	stupid	clever	careless	foolish

- It was nice of you to take me to the airport. Thank you very much.
- It was careless of Jack to leave the door unlocked when he went out.
- It's stupid of him to give up his job when he needs the money.
- It was very generous of Ann to lend us the money.

UNIT 97

Comparison (1) – cheaper, more expensive, etc.

a Study these examples:

Let's go by car. It's cheaper.
Don't go by train. It's more expensive.

Cheaper and more expensive are comparative forms.

After comparatives we use than:

- It's cheaper to go by car than to go by train.

For than see also Unit 99.

b We use -er for the comparative of short adjectives and adverbs:
cheap/cheaper hard/harder large/larger thin/thinner

- This jacket is too small. I need a larger size.
- Ann works harder than most of her friends.

We prefer -er with some two-syllable adjectives, especially adjectives ending in -y. For example:

lucky/luckier funny/funnier easy/easier pretty/prettier and also: quiet/quieter narrow/narrower simple/simpler

- The examination was easier than we expected.
- It's too noisy here. Can we go somewhere quieter?

For spelling rules see Appendix 3.

c We use more . . . (not -er) for other two-syllable adjectives and longer adjectives:

more modern more serious more expensive more comfortable

- More expensive hotels are usually more comfortable than cheaper ones.
- Her illness was more serious than we first thought.

We also use more . . . for adverbs that end in -ly:

more slowly more seriously more quietly more carefully

- Could you speak more slowly, please?

We also say more often:

- I don't play tennis much now. I used to play more often.

But we say earlier (not more early):

- You're always tired in the mornings. You should go to bed earlier.

d Before the comparative of adjectives and adverbs you can use:

a (little) bit a little much a lot far (= a lot)

- Let's go by car. It's much (or a lot) cheaper.
- Don't go by train. It's much (or a lot) more expensive.
- Ann works a lot (or much) harder than most of her friends.
- Could you speak a (little) bit (or a little) more slowly?
- Her illness was far more serious than we first thought.

a Some adjectives and adverbs have irregular comparative forms:

good/well	better	Let me ask him. I know him better than you do.
bad/badly	worse	The garden looks better since you tidied it up. “Is your headache better?” “No, it’s worse .”
far	further (or farther)	The situation was much worse than we expected. I’m very tired. I can’t walk much further . (or . . . much farther.)

Further (but not farther) can also mean more or additional:

- Let me know immediately if you hear any further news. (= any more news)

Note the comparative words more and less:

- I smoke more than I used to.
- We’ve got less time than I thought.

b Older and elder

The comparative of old is older:

- Tom looks older than he really is. (not elder)

We use elder when we are talking about members of a family. We say (my) elder brother/sister/son/daughter (older is also possible):

- My elder (or older) brother is a pilot.

We use elder only before a noun:

- My brother is older than me. (not elder than me)

For eldest see Unit 100c.

c Sometimes you can use two comparatives together. For example: harder and harder, more and more, more and more difficult. We use this structure to say that something is changing continuously:

- It’s becoming harder and harder to find a job.
- Your English is improving. It’s getting better and better.
- It’s becoming more and more difficult to find a job.
- These days more and more people are learning English.

d Note the structure the + comparative the better. For example:

- “What time shall we leave?” “The sooner the better.” (= it will be best if we leave as soon as possible)
- “What size box do you want?” “The bigger the better.” (= it will be best if the box is as big as possible)

We also use the . . . the . . . (with two comparatives) to say that one thing depends on another thing:

- The warmer the weather, the better I feel.
- The earlier we leave, the sooner we will arrive.
- The more expensive the hotel, the better the service.
- The more electricity you use, the higher your bill will be.
- The more you have, the more you want.

UNIT 99

Comparison (3) – as . . . as/than

a Study this example situation:

Joe, Henry, and Arthur are all millionaires. They are all very rich. Joe has $10 million, Henry has $6 million, and Arthur has $2 million. So:

Henry is rich.
He is richer than Arthur.
But he isn't as rich as Joe. (= Joe is richer than Henry is)

Here are some more examples of not as . . . as:

- Sue isn't as old as she looks. (= she looks older than she is)
- The shopping center wasn't as crowded this morning as it usually is. (= it is usually more crowded)
- Jim didn't do as well on his exam as he had hoped. (= he had hoped to do better)
- "The weather's better today, isn't it?" "Yes, it's not as cold." (= yesterday was colder)
- I don't know as many people as you do. (= you know more people)

You can also say "not so . . . as" (instead of "not as . . . as"):

- Henry isn't so rich as Joe.

b You can also use as . . . as (but not "so . . . as") in positive sentences and in questions:

- I'm sorry I'm late. I got here as fast as I could.
- There's plenty of food, so eat as much as you like.
- Let's walk. It's just as quick as taking the bus.
- Can you send me the money as soon as possible, please?

We also say twice as . . . as, three times as . . . as, etc.

- Gasoline is twice as expensive as it was a few years ago.
- Their house is about three times as big as ours.

c We say the same as (not the same like):

- Ann's salary is the same as mine. (or Ann gets the same salary as me.)
- Tom is the same age as George.
- "What would you like to drink?" "I'll have the same as last time."

d After than and as it is more usual to say me/him/her/them/us when there is no verb. Compare these sentences:

- You are taller than I am. but: You are taller than me.
- They have more money than we have. but: They have more money than us.
- I can't run as fast as he can. but: I can't run as fast as him.

UNIT 100

Superlatives – the longest, the most enjoyable, etc.

a Study these examples:

What is the longest river in the world?
 What was the most enjoyable vacation you've ever had?
Longest and most enjoyable are superlative forms.

b We use -est or most . . . to form the superlative of adjectives and adverbs. In general we use -est for shorter words and most . . . for longer words. (The rules are the same as those for the comparative – see Unit 97.) For example:

long/longest	hot/hottest	easy/easiest	hard/hardest
but: most famous	most boring	most difficult	most expensive

For spelling rules see Appendix 3.

- Yesterday was the hottest day of the year.
- That was the most boring movie I've ever seen.
- "Why did you stay at that hotel?" "It was the cheapest we could find."
- She is a really nice person – one of the nicest people I know.

Note the irregular superlatives best and worst:

- That was a delicious meal. It's one of the best I've ever had.
- Why does he always come to see me at the worst possible moment?

Don't forget that we normally use the with superlatives: "the best," "the most boring," etc.

c Oldest and eldest

The superlative of old is oldest:

- That house over there is the oldest building in the town. (not the eldest)

We use eldest when we are talking about the members of a family (oldest is also possible):

- My eldest (or oldest) son is 13 years old.
- Are you the eldest (or oldest) in your family?

d After superlatives, we use in with places (towns, buildings, etc.):

- What's the longest river in the world? (not of the world)
- We were lucky to have one of the nicest rooms in the hotel.

Also: (the best . . .) in the class / in the company, etc.

But: the happiest day of my life, the hottest day of the year.

Note that we often use the present perfect (I have done) after a superlative (see also Unit 14a):

- What's the best movie you've ever seen?
- That was the most delicious meal I've had in a long time.

e We sometimes use most + adjective (without the) to mean very:

- The book you lent me was most interesting. (= very interesting)
- Thank you for the money. It was most generous of you. (= very generous)

UNIT 101

Word order (1) – verb + object; place and time

a Verb + object

The verb and the object of the verb normally go together. We do not usually put other words between them:

	verb	+	object
I	like		children	very much. (not I like very much children.)
Did you	see		Norman	yesterday?
Ann often	plays		tennis.

Here are some more examples. Notice how each time the verb and the object go together:

- Do you clean the house every weekend? (not Do you clean every weekend the house?)
- Everybody enjoyed the party very much. (not Everybody enjoyed very much the party.)
- Our guide spoke English fluently. (not . . . spoke fluently English.)
- I not only lost all my money – I also lost my passport. (not I lost also my passport.)
- At the end of the street you'll see a supermarket on your left. (not . . . see on your left a supermarket.)

For the position of words like also and often before the verb, see Unit 102.

b Place and time

We usually say the place (where?) before the time (when? / how often? / how long?):

	place	time
Tom walks	to work	every morning.	(not Tom walks every morning to work.)
She has been	in Canada	since April.
We arrived	at the airport	early.

Here are some more examples:

- I'm going to Paris on Monday. (not I'm going on Monday to Paris.)
- Don't be late. Make sure you're here by 8 o'clock.
- Why weren't you at home last night?
- You really shouldn't go to bed so late.

It is often possible to put the time at the beginning of the sentence:

- On Monday I'm going to Paris.
- Every morning Tom walks to work.

Note that you cannot use early or late at the beginning of the sentence in this way.

There is more information about word order in Unit 102.

UNIT 102

Word order (2) – adverbs with the verb

a We put some adverbs (for example always, also, probably) with the verb in the middle of a sentence:

- Tom always goes to work by car.
- We were feeling very tired. We were also hungry.
- Your car has probably been stolen.

b Study these rules for the position of adverbs in the middle of a sentence. (They are only general rules, so there are exceptions.)

i) If the verb is one word (goes, cooked, etc.), we usually put the adverb before the verb:

	adverb	verb
Tom	always	goes	to work by car.

- I cleaned the house and also cooked dinner. (not cooked also)
- Jack hardly ever watches television and rarely reads newspapers.
- She almost fell over as she came down the stairs.

Note that these adverbs (always/often/also, etc.) go before have to:

- We always have to wait a long time for the bus.

But adverbs go after am/is/are/was/were:

- We were feeling very tired. We were also hungry.
- Why are you always late? You're never on time.
- The traffic isn't usually as bad as it was this morning.

ii) Sometimes a verb is two or more words (can remember, doesn't smoke, has been stolen, etc.). We usually put the adverb after the first part of the verb:

	verb 1	adverb	verb 2
I	can	never	remember	his name.
Ann	doesn't	usually	smoke.
	Are you	definitely	going	to the party tomorrow?
Your car	has	probably	been	stolen.

- My parents have always lived in Chicago.
- Jill can't cook. She can't even boil an egg.
- The house was only built a year ago and it's already falling down.

In negative sentences probably goes before the negative. So we say:

- I probably won't see you. or I will probably not see you.
(but not I won't probably see you.)

c We also use all and both in these positions:

- We all felt sick after the meal.
- Jack and Tom have both applied for the job.
- We are all going out to eat tonight.
- My parents are both teachers.

UNIT 103

Still and yet Anymore / any longer / no longer a Still and yet

We use still to say that a situation or action is continuing. Still usually goes in the middle of the sentence with the verb (see Unit 102b for the exact position):

- It's 10:00 and Tom is still in bed.
- "Have you given up smoking?" "No, I still smoke."
- Are you still living in the same house, or have you moved?
- When I went to bed, Ann was still working.
- Do you still want to go to the party, or have you changed your mind?

We use yet when we ask if something has happened or when we say that something has not happened. We use yet mainly in questions and negative sentences. Yet usually goes at the end of the sentence:

- I'm hungry. Is dinner ready yet?
- Have you finished writing that letter yet?
- It's 10:00 and Tom hasn't gotten up yet. (or . . . isn't up yet.)
- We don't know where we're going on our vacation yet.

We often use yet with the present perfect ("Have you finished writing that letter yet?"). See also Unit 15b.

Now compare still and yet in these sentences:

- Jack lost his job a year ago and he is still unemployed.
Jack lost his job a year ago and hasn't found another job yet.
- Is it still raining?
Has it stopped raining yet?

Still is also possible in negative sentences:

- He said he would be here an hour ago, and he still hasn't come.

This is similar to "he hasn't come yet." But still . . . not shows a stronger feeling of surprise or impatience. Compare:

- She hasn't written to me yet. (but I expect she will write soon)
- She still hasn't written to me. (she should have written before now)

b We use not . . . anymore, not . . . any longer, and no longer to say that a situation has changed. Anymore and any longer go at the end of the sentence:

- Mr. Davis doesn't work here anymore (or any longer). He left about six months ago.
- We were good friends once, but we aren't friends anymore (or any longer).

No longer goes in the middle of the sentence (see Unit 102b):

- We are no longer friends.
- She no longer loves him.

We do not normally use no more in this way:

- He is no longer a student. (not He is no more a student.)

UNIT 104

Although / though / even though In spite of / despite

a Study this example situation:

Last year Jack and Jill spent their vacation at the beach.

It rained a lot, but they enjoyed themselves. You can say:

Although it rained a lot, they enjoyed themselves.
(= It rained a lot, but they . . .) or:

In spite of } the rain, they enjoyed themselves.
Despite }

b After although we use a subject + verb:

- Although she smokes 20 cigarettes a day, she seems quite healthy.
- Although it rained a lot, we enjoyed our vacation.
- I didn't get the job, although I had all the necessary qualifications.

After in spite of (or despite) we use a noun, a pronoun (this/that/what, etc.), or -ing:

- In spite of the rain, we enjoyed our vacation.
- I didn't get the job, despite my qualifications.
- She wasn't well, but in spite of this she went to work.
- Despite what I said last night, I still love you.
- I'm not tired, in spite of working hard all day.

Note that we say "in spite of," but despite (without of).

You can also say in spite of / despite the fact that . . . :

- In spite of the fact that I was tired, I couldn't sleep.
- She seems healthy, despite the fact that she smokes 20 cigarettes a day.

Compare although and in spite of / despite:

- Although the traffic was bad, I arrived on time.
In spite of the traffic, I arrived on time.
- I couldn't sleep, although I was very tired.
I couldn't sleep, despite being very tired.

c Sometimes we use though instead of although:

- I didn't get the job, though I had all the necessary qualifications.

In spoken English we often use though at the end of a sentence:

- The house isn't very nice. I like the garden though. (= but I like the garden)
- I see him every day. I've never spoken to him though. (= but I've never spoken to him)

Even though is a stronger form of although:

- Even though I was really tired, I couldn't sleep.

a Study this example:

Our football team lost yesterday. We all played badly. Bill is our best player, but yesterday even Bill played badly.

We use even to say that something is unusual or surprising. We say even Bill . . . because he is a good player and it is unusual for him to play badly. If he played badly, it must have been a bad day for the team.

- These photographs aren't very good. Even I could take better photographs than these. (I'm certainly not a good photographer, so they must be bad.)
- It's a very rich country. Even the poorest people own cars. (so the rich people must be very rich)
- She always wears a coat – even in summer.
- Nobody would lend him the money – not even his best friend. (or Even his best friend wouldn't lend him the money.)

b Very often we use even with the verb in the middle of a sentence (see Unit 102b for the exact position):

- Don has traveled all over the world. He has even been to the Antarctic. (It's very unusual to go to the Antarctic, so he must have traveled a lot.)
- He always wears a tie. He even wears a tie in bed!
- They are very rich. They even have their own private jet.

Here are some examples with not even:

- I can't cook. I can't even boil an egg. (so I certainly can't cook, because boiling an egg is very simple)
- They weren't very friendly to us. They didn't even say hello.
- She's in good shape. She's just run five miles and she's not even out of breath.

c You can use even with comparatives (hotter / more surprised, etc.):

- It was very hot yesterday, but today it's even hotter.
- I got up at 6:00, but Carol got up even earlier.
- I knew I didn't have much money, but I've got even less than I thought.
- I was surprised to get a letter from her. I was even more surprised when she appeared at my door the next day.

d You can use even with if, when, and though:

- I'll probably see you tomorrow. But even if I don't, we're sure to see each other before the weekend.
- She never shouts, even when she's angry. (you expect people to shout when they are angry)
- He has bought a car, even though he can't drive.

For if and when see Unit 9c. For even though see Unit 104.

As (time) – “I watched her as she worked.” As (reason) – “As I was feeling tired, I went to bed.”

a As (time): two things happening together

You can use as when two things happen at the same time or over the same period of time:

- I watched her as she opened the letter.
- As they walked along the street, they looked in the store windows.
- Turn off the light as you go out, please.

We use as especially for two short actions happening at the same time:

- George arrived as I left. (= he arrived and I left at the same time)
- We all waved goodbye to Tom as he drove away in his car.

You can also use just as (= exactly at that moment):

- George arrived just as I left.
- Just as I sat down, the phone rang.

We also use as when two changes happen over the same period of time:

- As the day wore on, the weather got worse.
- I began to enjoy the job more as I got used to it.

b As (time): one thing happening during another

You can say that you did something as you were doing something else (= in the middle of doing something else).

When we use as in this way, both actions are usually quite short:

- The man slipped as he was getting off the train.
- Jill burned herself as she was taking the cake out of the oven.
- The thief was seen as he was climbing over the wall.

You can also use just as:

- Just as we were going out, it started to rain.
- I had to leave just as the conversation was getting interesting.

For the past continuous (was getting / were going, etc.) see Unit 12.

Note that we use as only if two actions happen together. Do not use as if one action follows another:

- When I got home, I took a bath. (not as I got home)

c As (reason)

As sometimes means “because”:

- As I was feeling tired, I went to bed early. (= because I was feeling tired)
- As they live near us, we see them quite often.
- As tomorrow is a national holiday, all the stores will be closed.
- As we had nothing better to do, we watched television the whole evening.

For as and like see Unit 107. For as . . . as see Unit 99.

a Like = similar to / the same as / for example:

- What a beautiful house! It's like a palace. (not as a palace)
- "What does George do?" "He's a teacher, like me." (not as me)
- Why do you always talk about boring things like your job?
- Be careful! The floor was just waxed. It's like walking on ice.
- It's raining again. I hate weather like this.

Like is a preposition. So it is followed by a noun ("like a palace / like your job"), a pronoun ("like me / like this"), or -ing ("like walking").

You can also say "like (someone/something) -ing":

- "What's that noise?" "It sounds like a baby crying."

b We use as before a subject + verb:

- Don't move anything. Leave everything as it is.

Compare like and as in these sentences:

- You should have done it like this. (like + pronoun)
- You should have done it as I showed you. (as + subject + verb)

But we use such as (= for example) without a verb:

- Some sports, such as auto racing, can be dangerous.

Note that we say as usual:

- You're late as usual.

c As + subject + verb can have other meanings. For example:

- Do as you are told! (= Do what you are told.)
- They did as they promised. (= They did what they promised.)

You can also say as you know / as we expected / as I said / as I thought, etc.:

- As you know, it's Tom's birthday next week. (= you know this already)
- Ann failed her driving test, as we expected.

d As can also be a preposition (which means you can use it with a noun), but the meaning is different from like.

We use like when we compare things:

- She looks beautiful – like a princess. (she isn't really a princess)
- Everyone is sick at home. Our house is like a hospital. (it isn't really a hospital)

We use as + noun to say what something really is or was (especially when we talk about someone's job or how we use something):

- A few years ago I worked as a waiter. (I really was a waiter)
- Sue has just found a job as a sales clerk.
- During the war this hotel was used as a hospital. (so it really was a hospital)
- We don't have a car, so we use the garage as a workshop.
- The news of her death came as a great shock. (it really was a shock)

- a You can use as if to say how someone or something looks/sounds/feels, etc.:
- The house looked as if nobody was living in it.
 - Ann sounds as if she's got a cold, doesn't she?
 - I've just come back from vacation, but I feel tired and depressed. I don't feel as if I've had a vacation.

Compare:

- You look tired. (look + adjective)
You look as if you haven't slept. (look + as if + subject + verb)
- Tom sounded worried. (sound + adjective)
Tom sounded as if he was worried. (sound + as if + subject + verb)

You can use as though instead of as if:

- Ann sounds as though she's got a cold.

- b You can also say It looks/sounds/smells as if (or as though):
- Tom is very late, isn't he? It looks as if he isn't coming.
 - We took an umbrella because it looked as if it was going to rain.
 - Do you hear that music next door? It sounds as if they are having a party, doesn't it?
 - It smells as though someone has been smoking in here.

After It looks/sounds/smells, many people use like instead of as if / as though:

- It looks like Tom isn't coming.

- c You can also use as if with other verbs to say how someone does something:
- He ran as if he were running for his life.
 - After the interruption, she continued talking as if nothing had happened.
 - When I told them my plan, they looked at me as if I were insane.

- d After as if we sometimes use the past when we are talking about the present. For example:
- I don't like Norman. He talks as if he knew everything.

The meaning is not past in this sentence. We use the past ("as if he knew") because the idea is not real: Norman does not know everything. We use the past in the same way in if sentences and after wish (see Unit 35).

When we use the past in this way, we use were instead of was:

- Harry's only 50. Why do you talk about him as if he were (or was) an old man?
- They treat me as if I were (or was) their own son. (I'm not their son.)

UNIT 109

At/on/in (time)

a At We use at with times:
 at 5 o'clock at 11:45 at midnight at lunchtime

■ Carol usually leaves work at five o'clock.

But we usually leave out at when we ask (At) what time . . . ?:

■ What time are you going out this evening?

We also use at in these expressions:

at night

I don't like going out at night.

at Christmas / at Easter

We give each other presents at Christmas.

(public holiday periods)

at the moment / at present

Ms. King is busy at the moment / at present.

at the same time

Ann and I arrived at the same time.

at the age of . . .

Tom left school at the age of 16 / at 16.

at the beginning of . . .

I'm going away at the beginning of May.

at the end of . . .

At the end of the concert, there was great applause.

b On We use on with dates and days:

on March 12th on Friday(s) on Christmas Day (but at Christmas)

■ They got married on March 12th.

We also say:

on Friday morning(s) on Sunday afternoon(s) on Monday evening(s) on Saturday night(s), etc. on weekends

■ I usually go out on Monday evenings.

■ What are you doing on the weekend?

c In We use in for longer periods of time (for example: months/years/seasons):

in April

in 1968

in (the) winter

in the 18th century in the 1970s

in the Middle Ages

■ They got married in 1968.

We also say:

in the morning(s) / in the afternoon(s) / in the evening(s)

■ I'll see you in the morning. (but I'll see you on Friday morning.)

d We do not use at/on/in before last and next:

■ I'll see you next Friday. ■ They got married last March.

e In + a period of time = a time in the future:

■ The train will be leaving in a few minutes. (= a few minutes from now)

■ Jack went away. He'll be back in a week. (= a week from now)

■ They are getting married in six months. (= six months from now)

You can also say "in six months' time," "in a week's time," etc.:

■ They are getting married in six months' time.

We also use in to say how long it takes to do something:

■ I learned to drive in four weeks. (= it took me four weeks to learn)

UNIT 110

For, during, and while a For and during

We use for + a period of time to say how long something goes on:

for six years for two hours for a week

- I've lived in this house for six years.
- We watched television for two hours last night.
- Ann is going away for a week in September.
- Where have you been? I've been waiting for hours.
- Are you going away for the weekend?

You cannot use during in this way:

- It rained for three days without stopping. (not during three days)

We use during + noun to say when something happens (not how long):

during the movie during our vacation during the night

- I fell asleep during the movie.
- We met a lot of interesting people during our vacation.
- The ground is wet. It must have rained during the night.
- I'll call you some time during the afternoon.

b During and while

We use during + noun. We use while + subject + verb. Compare:

I fell asleep	during	noun the movie.
I fell asleep	while	subject + verb I was watching television.

Compare during and while in these examples:

- We met a lot of interesting people during our vacation.
We met a lot of interesting people while we were on vacation.
- Robert suddenly began to feel sick during the exam.
Robert suddenly began to feel sick while he was taking the exam.

Here are some more examples of while:

- We saw Ann while we were waiting for the bus.
- While you were out, there was a phone call for you.
- Tom read a book while I watched television.

When you are talking about the future, use the present (not will) after while:

- I'm going to Toronto next week. I hope to see Tom while I'm there.
- What are you going to do while you are waiting?

See also Unit 9a.

For while -ing see Unit 64b. For for and since see Unit 19b.

UNIT 111

By and until By the time . . .

a By (+ a time) = not later than:

- I mailed the letter today, so they should receive it by Monday. (= on or before Monday, on Monday at the latest)
- We'd better hurry. We have to be home by 5 o'clock (= at or before 5 o'clock, at 5 o'clock at the latest)
- Where's Ann? She should be here by now. (= now or before now; so she should have already arrived)

You cannot use until with this meaning:

- Tell me by Friday whether or not you can come to the party. (not Tell me until Friday)

We use until (or till) to say how long a situation continues:

- "Shall we go now?" "No, let's wait until (or till) it stops raining."
- I was tired this morning, so I stayed in bed until half past ten.

Compare until and by in these sentences:

- Sue will be away until Monday. (so she'll come back on Monday)
- Sue will be back by Monday. (= she'll be back on or before Monday, on Monday at the latest)
- I'll be working until 11 o'clock. (so I'll stop working at 11 o'clock)
- I'll have finished my work by 11 o'clock (= I'll finish my work at or before 11 o'clock, at 11 o'clock at the latest)

b You can also say by the time (something happens), Study these examples carefully:

- It's not worth going shopping now. By the time we get to the stores, they will be closed. (= they will close between now and the time we get there)
- (from a letter) I'm flying to the United States this evening. So by the time you receive this letter, I'll probably be in New York. (= I will arrive in New York between now and the time you receive this letter.)

When you are talking about the past, you can use By the time (something happened), . . .

- Tom's car broke down on the way to the party last night. By the time he arrived, most of the guests had left. (= It took him a long time to get to the party and most of the guests left during this time.)
- I had a lot of work to do yesterday evening. By the time I finished, I was very tired. (= It took me a long time to do the work and I became more and more tired during this time.)
- It took them a long time to find a place to park their car. By the time they got to the theater, the play had already started.

You can also use by then or by that time:

- Tom finally arrived at the party at midnight. But by then (or by that time), most of the guests had left.

UNIT 112

In/at/on (position) (1)

a In Study these examples:

in a room / in a building in a garden / in a park in a town / in a country in the water in the ocean in a river

in a row / in a line

- There's no one in the room / in the building / in the store.
- The children are playing in the garden / in the park.
- When we were in Italy, we spent a few days in Venice. (not at Venice)
- Robert lives in a small village in the mountains.
- She keeps her money in her bag / in her purse.
- What do you have in your hand / in your mouth?
- Look at that girl swimming in the water / in the ocean / in the river!
- When I go to the movies, I prefer to sit in the front row.
- Have you read this article in the newspaper?

Note that we say:

(sit) in an armchair (but on a chair) in a photograph / in a picture / in a mirror in the sky

- Who is the woman in that photograph? (not on that photograph)
- It was a beautiful day. There wasn't a cloud in the sky.
- Don't sit in that armchair. It's broken.

b In (the) front of In (the) back of

- The car is in front of the truck. (but not in the truck!)
- The truck is in back of (= behind) the car. (but not in the car!)
- The woman is in the front of the car. (in the car)
- The man is in the back (of the car). (in the car)

We say in the front / in the back of a car, room, theater, group of people, etc.:

- I was sitting in the back of the car when we crashed.
- Let's sit in the front (of the theater).
- John was standing in the back of the crowd.

but: on the front/back of a piece of paper, photograph, envelope, etc.: Write your name on the back of this piece of paper.

UNIT 113

In/at/on (position) (2)

a We say that someone is at an event. For example: “at a party / at a concert / at a conference / at the movies / at a football game”:

- Were there many people at the party / at the meeting?
- I saw Jack at the football game / at the concert on Saturday.

b We say:

at work	at an airport	at sea	in bed	on a farm
at a station	at the seashore		in prison/jail	in the hospital

- I'll be at work until 5:30.
- Can you meet me at the airport?
- Have you ever worked on a farm?
- Tom's father is in the hospital.

You can say be home / stay home with or without at:

- We'll be out during the day but we'll be (at) home all evening.
- I didn't go out last night. I stayed (at) home.

c You can be in or at college/school. Use at college or at school when you are thinking of the college/school as a place or when you give the name of a college/school:

- Dan will be in college / in school for two more years.
- Tom is away at college right now, but he'll be home for the summer.
- She's majoring in economics at Los Angeles City College.

d You can often use in or at with buildings. You can stay in a hotel or at a hotel; you can eat in a restaurant or at a restaurant. We usually say at when we say where an event takes place (for example: a concert, a movie, a meeting, a sports event, etc.):

- We went to a concert at the Arts Center.
- The meeting took place at the company's main office.
- “Where were you last night?” “At the theater.”

We say at someone's house:

- I was at Tom's house last night. (or I was at Tom's last night.)

We use in when we are thinking about the building itself:

- The rooms in Tom's house are very small.
- I enjoyed the movie, but it was very cold in the theater.

e We usually say in with towns and villages:

- Tom's parents live in St. Louis. (not “at St. Louis”)

But you can use at when the town or village is a point on a journey:

- Do you know if this train stops at Smithtown?
- We stopped at a pretty town on the way to Los Angeles.

f We say arrive IN a country or town:

- When did he arrive in Japan / in Tokyo?

We say arrive AT with other places (buildings, etc.) or events:

- What time did he arrive at school / at work / at the hotel / at the party?

We say arrive home (without a preposition):

- When did he arrive home?

UNIT 114

To, been to, into By car/in my car a To We say go/come/travel (etc.) to a place or event. For example:

go to Brazil	come to the U.S.	return to Italy
fly to Tokyo	walk to work	drive to the airport go to the bank	go to a party	go to a concert
be sent to prison	be taken to the hospital	go to bed

We say get to (but arrive in/at – (see Unit 113f):

- What time did you get to Montreal / work / the party?

We say go home / come home / get home, etc. (with no preposition):

- I'm tired. Let's go home.
- What time did you get home last night?

b Been to I have been to (a place) = I have visited a place; I went there, but now I have come back (see also Unit 13d):

- Have you ever been to Japan? ■ I've been to Buenos Aires twice.
- Ann has never been to a football game in her life.
- Jack has plenty of money. He has just been to the bank.

c Into "Go into / come into," etc. = enter (a room / building, etc.):

- I opened the door and went into the room.
- Don't wait outside! Come into the house.
- The man the police were chasing ran into a store.
- A bird flew into the room through the window.

d By car / in my car We use by . . . to say how we travel:

by car	by train	by plane	by boat/ship	by bus	by bicycle
also:	by rail	by air	by sea	by subway

- "How did you go to Paris?" "By plane."
- Sue usually goes to work by bicycle / by car / by bus / by train.

But we say "on foot":

- Did you come here by car or on foot?

But you cannot use by if you say "my car / the train / a taxi," etc. We say "in my car" (not by my car), "on the train" (not by the train).

We use in for cars and taxis:

in my car in Tom's car in the car in a car in a taxi

We say get in(to) / get out of a car or taxi:

He got into the car and drove off. (or He got in the car . . .)

We use on for bicycles and public transportation (buses, trains, etc.):

on my bicycle on the bus on the 6:45 train on a big ship

We say get on / get off a bicycle, bus, or train:

Quick! Get on the train. It's ready to leave.

APPENDIX 3 Spelling

Nouns, verbs, and adjectives can have the following endings:

noun + -s/es (plural)	books	ideas	matches
verb + -s/es (after he/she/it)	works	enjoys	washes verb + -ing	working	enjoying	washing verb + -ed	worked	enjoyed	washed adjective + -er (comparative)	cheaper	quicker	brighter adjective + -est (superlative)	cheapest	quickest	brightest adjective + -ly (adverb)	cheaply	quickly	brightly

When we use these endings, there are sometimes changes in spelling. These changes are listed below.

Vowels and consonants a e i o u are vowel letters.

The other letters (b c d f etc.) are consonants.

1. Nouns and verbs + -s/-es

The ending is -es when the word ends in -s/-ss/-sh/-ch/-x:

match/matches bus/buses box/boxes wash/washes miss/misses search/searches

Note also:

potato/potatoes tomato/tomatoes do/does go/goes

2. Words ending in -y (baby, carry, easy, etc.)

If a word ends in a consonant + y (-by/-ry/-sy, etc.):

y changes to ie before -s:

baby/babies family/families country/countries secretary/secretaries hurry/hurries study/studies apply/applies try/tries y changes to i before -ed:

hurry/hurried study/studied apply/applied try/tried y changes to i before -er and -est:

easy/easier/easiest heavy/heavier/heaviest lucky/luckier/luckiest y changes to i before -ly:

easy/easily heavy/heavily temporary/temporarily

y does not change before -ing:

hurrying studying applying trying y does not change if the word ends in a vowel + y (-ay/-ey/-oy/-uy):

play/plays/played enjoy/enjoys/enjoyed monkey/monkeys

exception: day/daily

Note also: pay/paid lay/laid say/said

3. Verbs ending in -ie (die, lie, tie)

If a verb ends in -ie, ie changes to y before -ing:

lie/lying die/dying tie/tying

4. Words ending in -e (smoke, hope, wide, etc.)

Verbs If a verb ends in -e, we leave out e before -ing: smoke/smoking hope/hoping dance/dancing confuse/confusing Exceptions: be/being verbs ending in -ee: see/seeing agree/agreeing If a verb ends in -e, we add -d for the past (of regular verbs): smoke/smoked hope/hoped dance/danced confuse/confused
Adjectives and adverbs If an adjective ends in -e, we add -r and -st for the comparative and superlative: wide/wider/widest late/later/latest large/larger/largest If an adjective ends in -e, we keep e before the adverb ending -ly: polite/politely extreme/extremely absolute/absolutely If an adjective ends in -le (terrible, probable, etc.), we leave out e and add -y for the adverb: terrible/terribly probable/probably reasonable/reasonably

5. Doubling consonants (stop/stopping/stopped, hot/hotter/hottest, etc.)

Sometimes a verb or an adjective ends in consonant – vowel – consonant. For example: stop plan rob hot thin wet prefer begin We double the final consonant (-pp-, -nn- etc.) of these words before -ing, -ed, -er and -est: stop/stopping/stopped plan/planning/planned rob/robbing/robbed hot/hotter/hottest thin/thinner/thinnest wet/wetter/wettest If the word has more than one syllable (prefer, begin, etc.), we double that final consonant only if the final syllable is stressed: preFER/preffering/preferred perMIT/permitting/permitted reGRET/regretting/regretted beGIN/beginning If the final syllable is not stressed, we do not double the final consonant: VISit/visiting/visited deVELop/developing/developed LISTen/listening/listened reMEMber/remembering/remembered If the final syllable is not stressed, and the last consonant is l, the consonant may be single or doubled: travel/traveling/traveled or travelling/travelled cancel/canceling/canceled or cancelling/cancelled We do not double the final consonant if the word ends in two consonants (-rt, -rn, -ck, etc.): start/starting/started turn/turning/turned thick/thicker/thickest We do not double the final consonant if there are two vowel letters before it (-oil, -eed, -ain, etc.): boil/boiling/boiled need/needing/needed explain/explaining/explained cheap/cheaper/cheapest loud/louder/loudest quiet/quieter/quietest Note that we do not double y or w at the end of words. (At the end of words y and w are not consonants; they are part of the vowel sound.): stay/staying/stayed grow/growing new/newer/newest

APPENDIX 4 Short forms (I'm/didn't, etc.)

In spoken English we usually say "I'm/you've/didn't," etc. (= I am/you have/did not). We also use these short forms in informal written English (for example, in letters to friends). When we write short forms, we use an apostrophe (') for the missing letter or letters:

I'm = I am you've = you have didn't = did not Short forms of auxiliary verbs (am/is/are/have/has/had/will/shall/would):

'm = am	I'm
's = is or has		he's	she's	it's
're = are					you're	we're	they're
've = have	I've				you've	we've	they've
'll = will or shall	I'll	he'll	she'll	it'll	you'll	we'll	they'll
'd = would or had	I'd	he'd	she'd		you'd	we'd	they'd

's can be is or has:

- He's sick. (= He is sick.)
- He's gone away. (= He has gone away.)

'd can be would or had:

- I'd see a doctor if I were you. (= I would see)
- I'd never seen her before. (= I had never seen)

We use some of these short forms after question words (who/what/how, etc.) and after that/there/here:

who's	what's	where's	that's	there's who'll	what'll	when's	that'll	there'll
who'd	how's	here's

- Who's that girl over there? (= who is)
- What's happened? (= what has)
- I think there'll be a lot of people at the party. (= there will)

Sometimes we use short forms (especially 's) after a noun:

- John's going out tonight. (= John is going)
- My friend's just gotten married. (= My friend has just gotten)

You cannot use these short forms ('m/'s/'ve, etc.) at the end of a sentence (because the verb is stressed in this position):

- "Are you tired?" "Yes, I am." (not "Yes, I'm.")
- Do you know where he is? (not Do you know where he's?)

Short forms of auxiliary verbs + not (isn't/didn't, etc.):

isn't (= is not)	haven't (= have not)	wouldn't (= would not) aren't (= are not)	hasn't (= has not)	shouldn't (= should not) wasn't (= was not)	hadn't (= had not) weren't (= were not)	can't (= cannot)	mustn't (= must not) don't (= do not)	couldn't (= could not) doesn't (= does not)	won't (= will not) didn't (= did not)

Note that you can say:

he isn't/she isn't/it isn't or he's not/she's not/it's not you aren't/we aren't// or you're not/we're not/they're not
